UNIVERSITY OF DETROIT • DETROIT, MICHIGAN

The Challenge of Today

Christian education has never been faced with a greater challenge than it is today. With more than half of the world in the control of those to whom religion is the "opiate of the people," and with forces in our own country seeking to overthrow our way of life, education is faced with the responsibility of training citizens who will accept the challenge to fight to uphold these principles upon which our heritage is founded.

Many of our educational institutions shoulder this burden well. The University is one of these. At the risk of criticism for repetition we, the editors of the 1949 Tower, wish to repeat the Credo of the University as a restatement of these principles which are so important in the world today.

The University believes in God.

It believes in the personal dignity of man.

It believes that man has certain natural rights which come from God and not from the state.

It therefore is opposed to all forms of dictatorship holding the philosophy that man belongs to the state.

It believes in the sanctity of the home.

It believes in the natural right of private property, but likewise that private property has its social obligations.

It believes that labor has not only rights but obligations.

It believes that capital also has rights but supported by obligations.

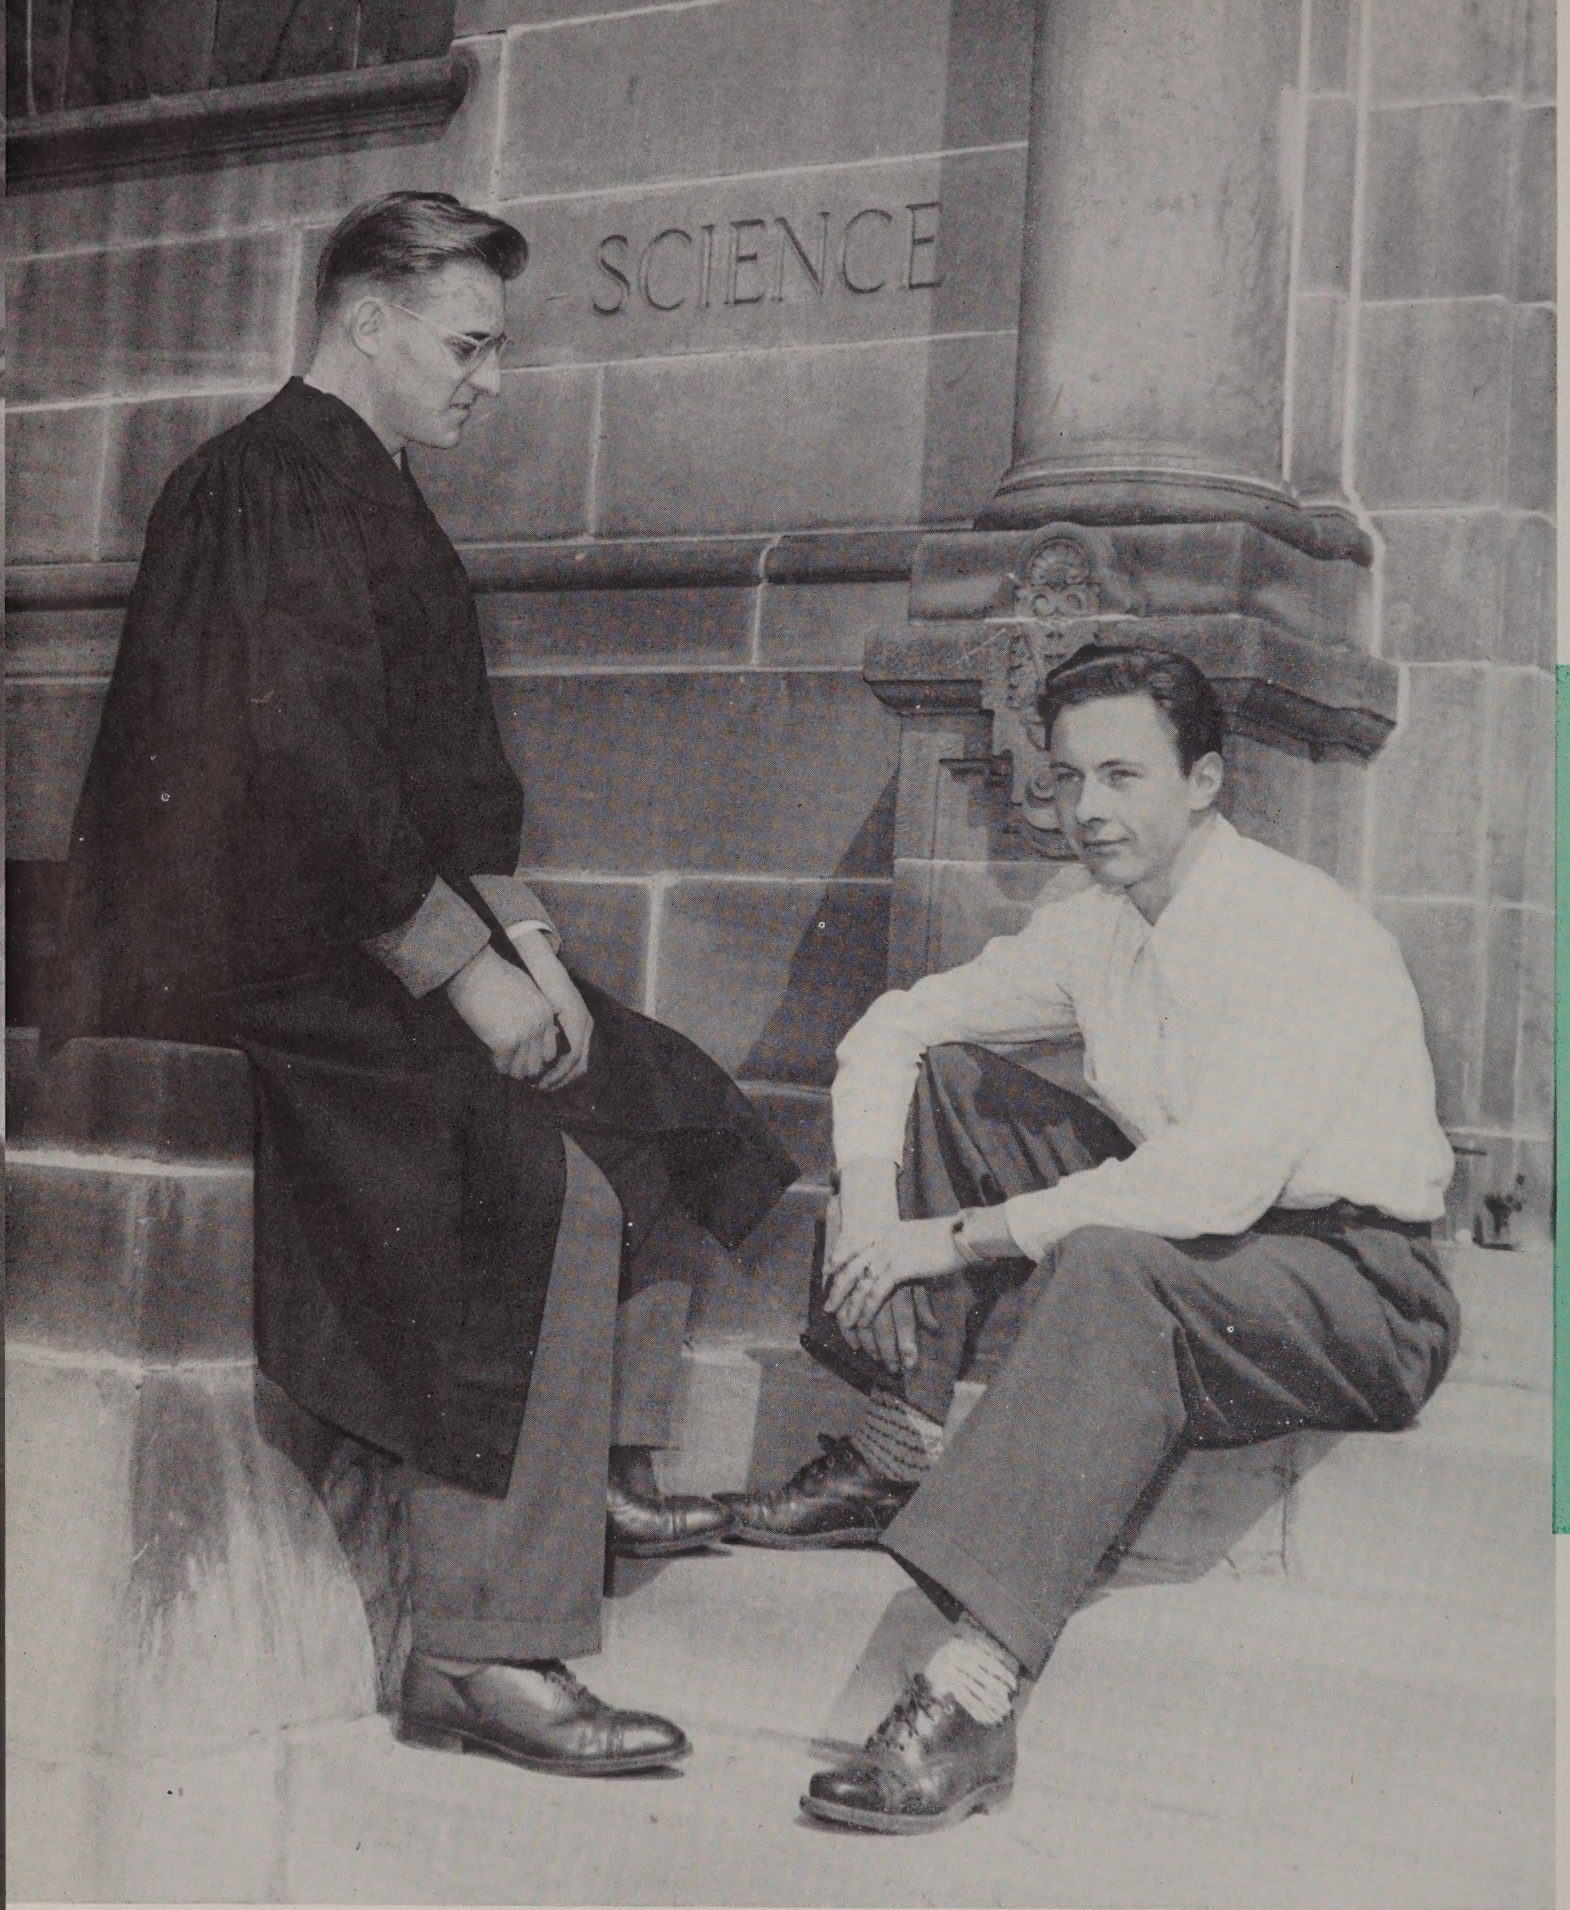

It is vigorously opposed to all forms of intolerance and persecution because of race.

It believes that liberty is a sacred right and that law, which regulates and protects liberty, is a sacred obligation.

It believes in inculcating all the essential liberties of American Democracy and takes frank and open issue with all brands of spurious "democracy."

It believes, briefly, in the teachings of Christ, Who held that morality must regulate the personal, family, economic, political and international life of men if civilization is to endure.

Meet the Tower-Class of 1949

Who should know more about college life than the graduating senior? And who should be more inexperienced in the ways of the University than the beginning freshman? The theme of this, the 1949 Tower, is concerned with what a senior could tell a freshman about our school.

We believe that the important aspects of college life may be grouped, roughly, under four heads. Of primary importance, of course, are academics. The others are people, activities, and sports.

A senior could tell a freshman many things about each of these. As you go, page by page, through this volume, we hope that you, like the freshman, will acquire a clearer understanding and appreciation of your University, as well as of the principles of Christian education, friendship, and citizenship for which it stands.

The Faculty Building, which faces McNichols Road, is probably the least familiar to the average student at the University. Large shade trees and a well landscaped lawn help to make it one of the most striking buildings on campus. Besides living quarters for the Jesuit faculty, the building houses offices and has a beautiful chapel.

The Science Building, in which the general administrative offices are located, might be called the 'brain' of the University. The Science arena and Physics and Biology laboratories are also found in this building.

During spring and summer months, the lawns of the campus are very popular with students. Sitting on the grass and studying in the warm May sun is a simple experience, but one which will not be forgotten by the men and women who leave the University.

Largest building on campus and the only one which does not have the customary tile roof is the Engineering Building. This building is a fascinating place to the uninitiated. A huge laboratory, running nearly the width of the building, is filled with all manner of interesting things, from airplanes to steam engines and electric generators.

Even the University Stadium carries out the Spanish type of architecture which prevails on campus. Seating over twenty thousand people, the stadium is the second largest in the city. All home athletic contests with the exception of baseball and basketball are held in the stadium.

Administration

Freshmen Mary Ann Carr and Ray Marusa start out on the tour of administration offices which initiates every incoming student. They will meet those men and women who co-ordinate the functions of the University.

The first stop is the Registrar's Office, where Ray meets Fr. Hugh F. Smith, S.J. The "St. Peter" of the University, Fr. Smith admits to classes only those with the necessary qualifications.

In his office in the Chemistry Building, Fr. Edward J. O'Connor, S.J., Dean of Men, briefs Ray on the rules and regulations which students are required to observe.

Mary Ann learns "how to be a co-ed" from Miss Helen E. Kean, Dean of Women.

The most painful stop on the tour is the Bursar's Office, where Lloyd J. Logsdon relieves Ray of his first semester's tuition.

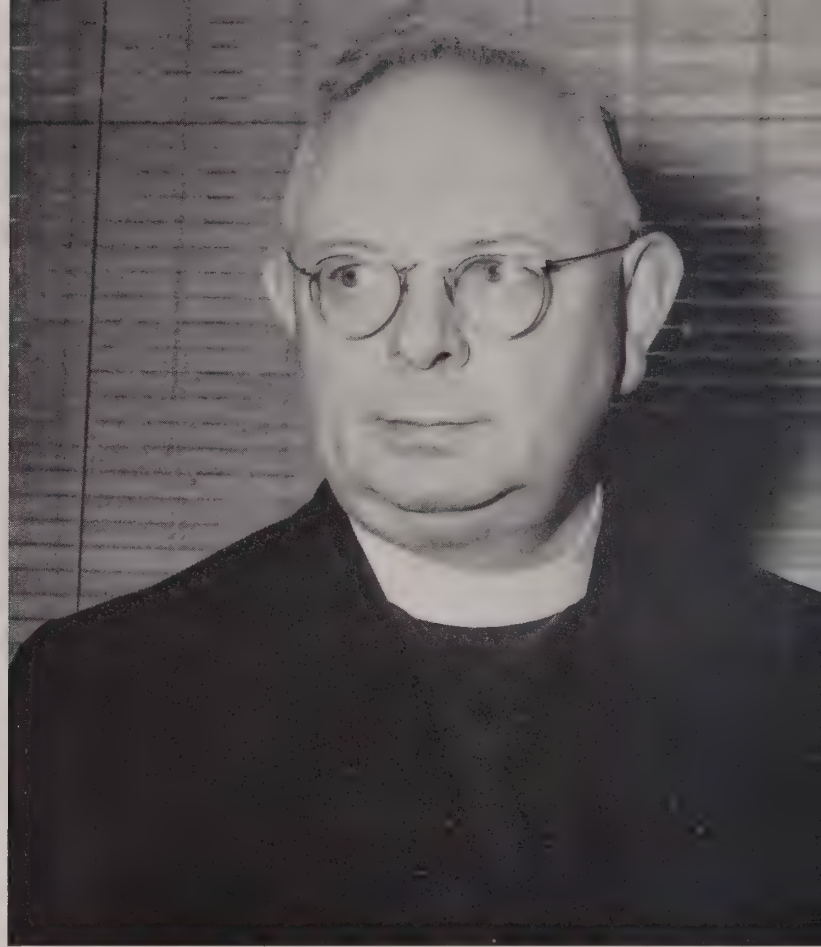

A hearty handshake from Fr. Joseph A. Foley, S.J., Student Counsellor, makes Ray feel at home.

Financial affairs of the University rest in the capable hands of Fr. Norbert J. Preusser, S.J., Treasurer and Comptroller.

Fr. Samuel K. Wilson, S.J., Director of Admissions, sets the minimum qualifications for entrance to the University.

Student discipline at Dowling Hall is the responsibility of Fr. Arthur E. Lovely, S.J., Dean of Men, and Miss Anne E. Hughes, Dean of Women.

The problems of veteran students are discussed by Paul P. Harbrecht, Director of the Student Counsel and Veterans' Bureau, and Truman Stacey (right), Public Relations Director.

Academics

Classes, labs, cuts, marking curves, quizzes, exams, cramming. These words are part of a special language, spoken only by students.

This special language, translated, tells the story of a college education. Econ, psych, chem, Shakespeare, integral, pol-sci, soc, and qual. They have meaning only to the initiated.

Our senior knows what they mean. He has used them every day for four years. But to our freshman, they are unintelligible.

But this language stands for things which are of paramount importance to the student. By way of illustration, this section of the book takes you into the classrooms, looks over the shoulders of teachers and students alike, in all of the colleges and schools of the University.

Bud Walsh is typical of the chem students who spend much of their time in the laboratories in the Chemistry Building. The general student is given an appreciation of the fundamental principles of the science; the special student is offered training in laboratory technique and a progressive program covering the elements of inorganic, organic, analytical and physical chemistry in order to acquaint him with the basic divisions of the science.

College of Commerce and Finance

Along with a practical education in commercial courses, the Commerce College seeks to create in the minds of its students a more sympathetic understanding of the social significance of business and industry, and the important part which they play in our modern economic society.

College of Engineering

This college seeks to give its students such an education as will prepare them for professional work in the field of engineering, to prepare them especially for the industrial and administrative phases of the profession, to qualify them for a useful and happy life as citizens as well as engineers, and to impart to them an appreciation, at least, of social, civic, and cultural values.

Candidates for Degrees

Someone once made the broad statement that it is not what you learn in college that is important but the people whom you meet.

Although this is hardly an indisputable fact, there is an element of truth in the statement. Our senior knows this. He knows that the friends he made in college are the people who can help him most in his professional and business career.

Not only are the contacts made in college important but also the social friendships which are formed. These people with whom the student associates during his four years will have much in common with him after graduation.

Nearly seven hundred students are graduating from the University this year, carrying with them into the world not only the education which they received but also the friendships which they made here.

Activities

If we are to believe what we see on the screen, college students spend most of their time attending dances, burning bonfires, and paddling one another. The films, of course, overplay the social side of college life to the extreme and exaggerate it beyond all reasonable truth.

Without these functions, however, college would be dull indeed. In his organizations, the student meets others who are interested in the same things and has an opportunity to air his views on many subjects with the group. In the activities, sponsored both by the University and by the various clubs and fraternities, he finds the relaxation necessary to his continued good work in school.

To our freshman, embarking on his college career, these things are "college life." To the senior they are merely means to an end. He knows that they may be overplayed, but he also knows that, used intelligently, these activities will help him to get the most out of his education.

Fraternities and Sororities Organizations Activities

Fraternities and Sororities

Greek letter organizations are a traditional part of college life. Here at the University, over thirty honorary, professional and social fraternities and sororities are actively carrying on this tradition. Hundreds of members devote hours of their time to promote the aims and ideals for which these organizations stand.

Women's Activities Honor Society

"To honor those co-eds who distinguished themselves by their service to the University, to exist as a society for the purpose of promoting social activities among the members and to promote the ideal of proper balance in the activities of the women students of the University," so reads the constitution of this unique co-ed society.

Unlike other campus sororities, Alpha Chi Tau does not issue bids for membership. The initiative lies with the prospective applicants, acceptance depending solely upon scholastic average and the number of activity points accumulated.

Having once earned a place on the honor plaque, activity does not cease for these social leaders. This year in the effort to reactivate the alumnae of the society an informal tea was held in December. The Pre-Lenten formal dinner dance at the Penobscot Club was voted to be made an annual event. Together with Blue Key and Alpha Sigma Nu, Alpha Chi Tau sponsored the Band Spring Concert. The formal induction banquet in May climaxed the season's agenda.

"Keynotes," written from the co-ed point of view, is published annually by the society as a handbook for all women students at the University.

Twenty-five years of awarding signal recognition to outstanding scholars of the University were celebrated this year by this National Jesuit Honor Society. Since 1924 Alpha Sigma Nu has annually selected a maximum of fifteen students of the junior class and honored them with membership to the society for their academic accomplishments, leadership in campus activities and loyalty to the University.

Each year the President of the University selects two members from each college as recommended by the deans of each college and three from the University at large.

An annual national convention and formal banquet highlight the society's social roster. The Alpha Sigma Nu Scholarship Key is awarded each year to the student who maintains the highest average during his four college years.

Blue Key

For the first time since its establishment at the University in 1942, Blue Key Fraternity admitted forty-five of our campus best to its honored ranks. The exceptional size of the junior and senior classes rightfully caused Blue Key's unprecedented growth. Designed to honor students who distinguish themselves through campus leadership and service to the University, the fraternity stresses activities and their relation to the scholarship of the individual. Members were selected this year by an original system under the skillful guidance of Blue Key President William Gilbride. A thorough survey of eligible members was attained through organizational recommendation and individual petition for membership to Blue Key.

Members of Eta Kappa Nu have found the Society to be a direct wire to a high and personal respect for the profession of electrical engineering. Beta Sigma Chapter, established in 1947, has awarded with membership "those men in the profession of electrical engineering who, by their attainment in college or practice, have manifested a deep interest and marked ability in their chosen life work, may be brought into closer union whereby mutual benefit may be derived."

A bi-monthly magazine, "The Bridge," informs local chapters of the activities of other branches of the nation-wide society together with the latest technical developments and personal achievements of individual members.

Although Eta Kappa Nu is an honorary society it has not attempted to short circuit the social aspects of campus life. To supplement the formal banquets held twice annually at the end of each pledge session, the society sponsors informal parties throughout the school year.

This year the Society inaugurated the presentation of an Electrical Engineers Handbook to the first semester junior attaining the highest scholastic average.

Pi Kappa Delta

National Forensic Honor Society

Mastery of the art of public discussion and debate is recognized through the Michigan Eta Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta.

Established at the University in 1933, the society promotes interest in intercollegiate oratory, debate and public speaking. Eligibility for membership, open to all students in good scholastic standing, is necessarily limited to those students who have represented the University in intercollegiate forensic competition. Degrees of membership are awarded for proficiency and distinction according to individual merit and achievement.

Pi Eta Chapter of Pi Tau Sigma was established at the University of Detroit in 1943 for the recognition of notable scholastic achievement and exemplary character development in accordance with the aims of the society and the engineering profession. The national organization was formed in 1915 with the union of two similar societies founded independently at the University of Wisconsin and at the University of Illinois.

During its comparatively short life on this campus the Society has recorded an envious tradition through the academic accomplishments of its active members and the noteworthy successes of its alumni in the field of mechanical engineering.

Candidates for membership are received at the annual initiation banquet. Each year at the Slide Rule Dinner Pi Tau Sigma awards a Mechanical Engineering Handbook to the junior student who has maintained the highest scholastic average during his freshman and sophomore years.

Sigma Rho Tau

National Engineering Honorary Speech Society

Observance of the fact that practical knowledge is enhanced by the effective expression of facts concerning that knowledge has led members of Sigma Rho Tau to notable success in the field of engineering. Zeta Chapter, established at the University in 1937, proposes to give the engineer training in public speaking through debates with brother chapters and by stimulating interest in individual speech activities.

Neophytes of the Society are initiated into speech training through the presentation of a five-minute address to the members of the fraternity at weekly meetings. Membership is awarded for proficiency in application of the principles of correct speaking after three semesters of participation.

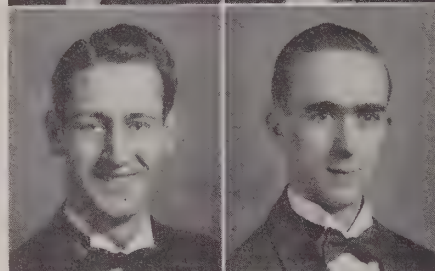

An active schedule in keeping with the useful aim of this society includes, besides inter-chapter contests, participation in the national convention of the association and, the "Happy Hunting Ground" of all public speakers, an annual banquet.

Delta Chapter of Tau Beta Pi offers students of the College of Engineering an impetus to achieve distinction through scholarship in accordance with the perfection demanded in that college's tradition. Founded in 1933 as Tau Phi at the University, the fraternity became the Delta Chapter when affiliated with the national association in 1941.

Members are elected annually by the upper fifth of the Senior Class and the upper eighth of the Pre-Senior Class. Awards of the Fraternity are presented each year at the Slide Rule Dinner to the sophomore who attained the highest scholastic average as a freshman, and to the junior who maintained the highest average throughout his freshman and sophomore years. A slide rule is presented to the junior and an engineer's handbook to the sophomore.

Journalism Sorority

Gamma Phi Sigma

An awareness of the need for professional and social campus activities has grown in proportion to the ever increasing student enrollment at the University.

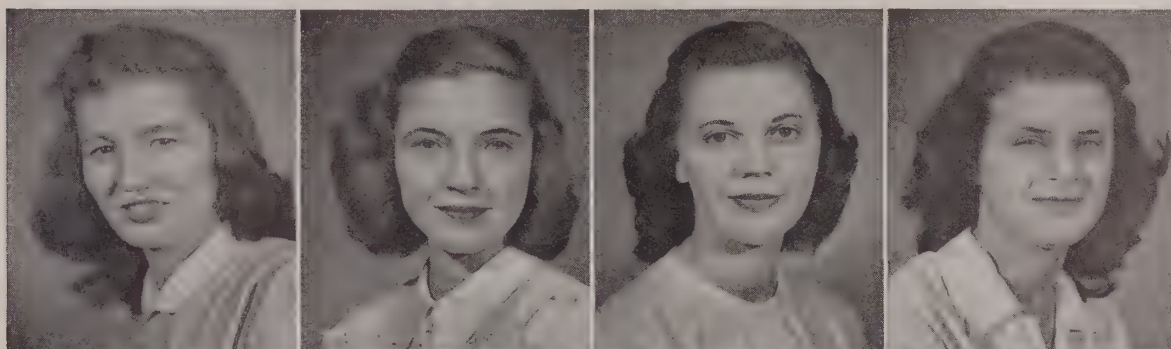

Gamma Phi Sigma, journalism sorority, obtained faculty approval of its charter during the first semester, and was officially welcomed into the Greek-lettered ranks in February at the annual inter-sorority dinner.

This new sorority, open to Journalism or English majors and students affiliated with a student publication or with the Public Relations Department, aims to promote Catholic literary principles and journalistic interests of women students at the University, to provide contacts with the field of journalism and to foster fraternalism and sociability among its members.

Thomas P. Hopkins, instructor in English, and Helen Kean, Dean of Women, are faculty advisors for the organization.

National General Social Fraternity

Zeta Chapter of Alpha Gamma Upsilon was established at the University in 1921. It endeavors to promote unity among the men of all colleges through social activities and to extend school acquaintances into permanent friendships.

The major interest of the fraternity in the past year has been centered upon the establishment of an active inter-fraternity council to more effectively coordinate all fraternity functions. Towards this end the members of Alpha Gamma Upsilon sponsored an inter-fraternity stag party during the first semester.

Michigan Alpha Chapter of Alpha Epsilon Delta was established at the University in 1941 when the members of Omega Beta Pi, a campus pre-med fraternity, were received into the national organization.

The fraternity endeavors to "impress in the mind of the pre-medical and science student the high standards and dignity of the medical profession in general." Its activities serve to unite and guide its members toward a more effective transition from "the spirit of the pre-medical school to that of the school of medicine."

AED staged the Scalpel Ball this year at Dearborn Inn. Below, the fraternity members and their dates pose in the ballroom during the intermission.

National Commerce Professional Fraternity

Students whose ambitions are directed toward the field of business find that Alpha Kappa Psi offers many educational opportunities with which they may complement their academic studies.

Beta Theta Chapter of this fraternity was re-established at the University in 1946 after a war-time lapse of three years. Now, following a rapid growth in membership, it is one of the few fraternities boasting a moderator in both the day and night schools.

An annual award, The Alpha Kappa Psi Scholarship Cup, is presented to the campus fraternity attaining the highest scholastic average.

General Social Fraternity

Standing: John Noonan, John O'Leary, Jim Roach; sitting: Bill Ward and Chuck Kemen. These five form the nucleus of Alpha Chi.

Alpha Chi has long enjoyed a coveted position in the spotlight of social activities. Founded in 1926 to promote frequent and enjoyable extra-curricular functions, the fraternity has successfully maintained its reputation through parties and dances during the past year.

A notable exception to the lighter activities of the fraternity is the Alpha Chi Scholarship Fund, established in 1947 with the aid of its alumni chapter. The fund, now supported by active members, financially enables a qualified student to complete one year of college.

The beginning and the end of AO's activities—standing: Louis Gorzeck, Leo Shipke, Edward Warner; sitting: Gerald Michael and Soll Ginsburg.

Alpha Nu Chapter of Alpha Omega, was established by dental students at Dinan Hall in 1934. During its active career the fraternity's profession-bound members have sought to "uphold the highest standards of the dental profession and to maintain and perpetuate the principles of Friendship and Brotherhood."

Each year the fraternity enjoys a variety of social activities highlighted by an annual smoker. The well-filled social calendar also includes dances, banquets and addresses by notable members of the dental profession.

The Alpha Omega Junior Scholarship award is annually presented to a dental student of exceptional academic standing.

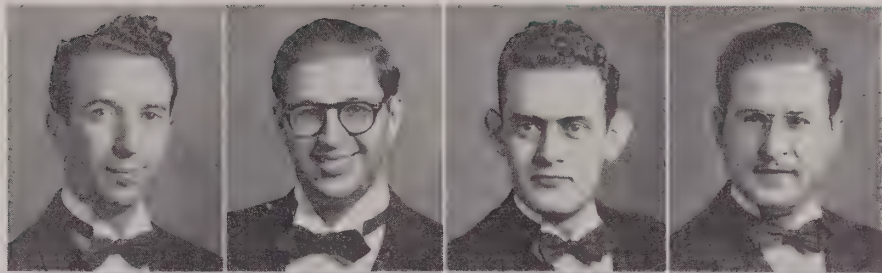

Members of Alpha Nu Chapter and their guests pose with the members and guests of the University of Michigan Chapter in the chapter house at Ann Arbor.

Since its establishment in 1919, at Dinan Hall, members of Mu Chapter have achieved notable prominence in varied phases of the law profession.

Gamma Eta Gamma's activities offer welcome diversion from normal law school routine. Its social calendar includes the annual Founders Day Banquet, at which new pledges are received, a Christmas dinner dance and the Denewith Pheasant Dinner.

In 1942 the fraternity established two scholarship awards for freshmen in the day and afternoon sections of law school.

Arts Social Sorority

Ellen Keller, Ellen DeCoster, Mary Ann Duffy and Pat Carron direct the activities for their sisters.

Comoro, oldest sorority in the Arts College, has led a vigorous life throughout its sixteen years of campus activity. The success of the sorority is due in part to the faithful observance of its motto, "to promote a spirit of fellowship and service among the members, to uphold the interests of the University and to encourage higher scholarship."

The traditional "last-and-best" dance of the school year, The Tower Ball, is sponsored by Comoro in co-operation with Chi Sigma Phi. This major event in the sorority's social schedule is annually preceded by bridge parties and dinner dances.

The Comoro Scholarship Key is presented each year to the Arts freshman co-ed with the highest scholastic average.

National Law Professional Fraternity

Sitting: Chester Kaczmarek, Richard Tarnas, Richard Murphy, Goldwyn Robinson; standing: Dan Horgan, James Tedesco and William Gilbride. These brothers comprise the fraternity's governing body.

Delta Theta Phi has the honor of being the oldest national fraternity on the campus. Hosmer Senate is the University's chapter of this law professional fraternity whose active senates may be found in leading law schools throughout the country.

Established in 1919, the accomplishments of Delta Theta Phi's alumni continue to mirror the high ideals of the fraternity. Social meetings of the Senate offer an opportunity for the development of friendship between its members and, at the same time, to hear addresses presented by notable representatives of the law profession.

The Delta Theta Phi Scholarship Key is offered annually to the male freshman law student who attains the highest scholastic average.

Journalism Fraternity

The able body behind DPK's activities—standing: Dave Alison, Harry Roehrig, Steve Podkowinski, Roy Courtade; sitting: Clements Michalski and Jack Evon.

Future greats in the field of journalism annually fill Delta Pi Kappa's "pencil-behind-ear" membership to capacity. Founded in 1925 as the greek-lettered offspring of the Detroit Press Club, the fraternity has sought to foster and preserve clean journalism, to direct this aim toward the ends of the University and to promote the spirit of brotherhood.

Delta Pi Kappa annually sponsors The Scribes Ball, first dance of the school year, at which they honor a co-ed, selected through a campus-wide poll, with the title "Scribes' Belle."

Members of Delta Pi Kappa, in the interest of their primary aim, have manned key positions in both of the University's publications. Delta Pi Kappa editorial keys are presented annually to students who have maintained a high standard of journalism on the campus.

National Dental Professional Fraternity

Only their closest associates refer to the members of Pi Pi Chapter as "molar maulers", but the record of Delta Sigma Delta clearly displays their achievements in the meticulous profession of dentistry.

A relatively young member of the sixty-six year old international dental fraternity, Pi Pi Chapter purposes to maintain a high standard of dentistry by developing in the minds of dental students and practitioners a "spirit of fraternal co-operation toward scientific, ethical and professional progress." To further this aim the chapter is annually represented at the national conclave of Delta Sigma Delta. Bi-monthly professional meetings are effectively rounded out with movies and talks on the varied phases of modern dentistry.

Lighter aspects of the fraternity include its sponsorship of a university-wide dance and the traditional Junior-Senior Party, the last fraternal function of the school year.

For more than twenty-eight years Theta Chapter has held a place of honor in the Panhellenic circle of the University. A guardian of lofty purposes in the fields of civic culture and commerce, Delta Sigma Pi annually organizes a roster that blends professional and social activities. Authoritative lectures offer a constructive foundation for monthly professional meetings while a fine social tradition is annually upheld by the gala Football Frolic and J-Prom breakfast.

Each year Theta Chapter selects a woman student to represent the University in the "Rose of Delta Sig" contest.

"The Delta Sig," a national journal, and "Theta Newsletter," published by the local chapter, keep members well informed of the activities of the fraternity.

National Foreign Trade Professional Fraternity

Frank Elliott, Leo Elbert, Joseph Ferris and Edward Berron determine Delta Phi Epsilon's policies.

Obstructions to the freedom of trade and dictatorial restraints on the freedom of enterprise, wherever they may exist, offer a challenge to the real and practical ideals championed by Delta Phi Epsilon. Founded at Georgetown University in 1919 as the first foreign service fraternity in the United States, Delta Phi Epsilon has retained as its arch-principle the belief that man must remain free to determine his own destiny.

Zeta chapter, an active and rapidly growing offspring of the national organization since 1924, has supplemented the general aims of the fraternity with a spirit of fellowship, loyalty to the University and guidance toward more perfect scholarship through constructive activities.

Delta Phi Epsilon's socio-professional schedule includes the annual Founder's Day Banquet, business meetings which feature authoritative speakers on varying aspects of foreign trade, informal parties and a pledge banquet.

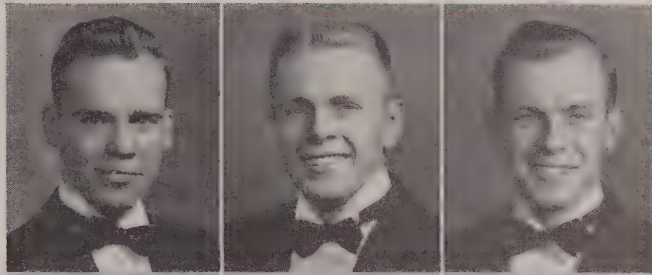

Zeta Chapter men and their dates attended an informal party at the Downtown American Legion Hall in February.

Balthasar, Gaspar, and Melchior, the three kings of the Magi, are honored by the oldest and most academically distinguished fraternity of the University. Magi was founded in 1916 to honor the University, the three kings and to promote true and lasting friendship among the brothers.

Members of the fraternity have won the lasting honor of achieving the highest scholastic average of all fraternities.

Without apparent difficulty, this average is maintained each year although it is enjoyably spotted with the traditional array of social functions, among which is the Magi Ball, annually assuming the spotlight.

An exemplary practice of the fraternity is its notable effort to encourage excellence in scholarship through the yearly presentation of Magi Keys to the highest ranking freshman and senior.

General Literary Social Sorority

Helen Wiggin, Betty Peiss, Margaret Timmis and Kitty Zeimet group around Marilyn Ruddon and Christine Lawrence.

Rho Gamma Zeta occupies a unique position in the sorority strata of the University. Its singularity is a product of its policy of accepting co-eds from every college to fill its ranks. Founded in 1944 by eight women students who fostered an appreciation of literature, the sorority has extended its social scope by a co-sponsorship of the Maytime Ball with Upsilon Delta Sigma Fraternity.

An enjoyable Christmas dinner-dance held this year was selected to be an annual affair hereafter, adding another highlight to a growing social tradition.

A key is awarded each year by the sorority, in collaboration with the English Department, to the freshman woman student who writes the best term paper.

Women students majoring in science and engineering find Sigma Delta a constructive and intelligently guided sorority that constantly strives to uphold the ethics of professionalism, and, at the same time fosters loyalty and sincerity in its members.

Founded in 1941, Sigma Delta has served its members well by providing professional meetings featuring faculty members, specialists and members as speakers. Lectures are often supplemented with slides and films to illustrate general and particular topics in the field of science.

Not all is academic with the "Sigma Delts." An annually anticipated social event, the Harvest Ball, was enjoyably presented this year by the sorority, and initiated a holiday spirit for the presentation of the annual Christmas party.

The Sigma Delta Scientific Scholarship Award is presented each year to the sophomore girl who attained the highest scholastic record in science during her freshman year.

Engineering Social Fraternity

Don Lynch, Vic Nawrocki, Ernest Hanson and Richard Heathfield discuss Tuyere's agenda.

Engineers, steeped in a tradition of building permanent monuments to man, have the honor of fostering and sustaining the oldest continuously active fraternity on the campus. Tuyere, founded in 1918, has been dedicated to the brotherhood and social development of engineering men. Tuyere men have consistently earned high academic standing in the College of Engineering as the entire fraternity has earned an envious social tradition through its annual presentation of the Tuyere Ball.

The fraternity follows the custom of an enjoyable pledge period, for its members, by several prospect parties preceding the selection of pledges. A gold star pledge pin is presented to the neophytes at an annual pledge banquet. The intensive initiation is climaxed informally with a weekend session, followed by the annual spring dinner-dance.

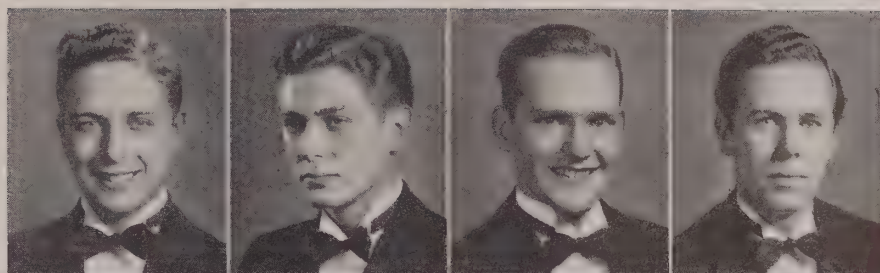

The Tuyere Citizenship Award is presented each year to an outstanding student in the Engineering College.

General Social Fraternity

Standing: Ken Turner, Walt Vincent, Al Mixer; sitting: Dick McKenzie and Bernard Masson. These men administer their fraternity's rules.

One of the most up and coming organizations on campus, Upsilon Delta Sigma was founded in 1944 as the Veterans' Social Fraternity. During the first two years of its existence, membership was limited to veterans of World War II. However, with decreasing veteran enrollment in 1946, the fraternity adopted its Greek letter name and became a General Social Fraternity.

The group is guided by the proposition that a fraternity has a duty not only to its members but also to its school. To that end a standing committee of its members was formed, known as the School Spirit Committee, which passes out cheer sheets at football games and carries on other activities in line with school spirit. It was through the work of this group that the Upsilon Delta Sigma Trophy, presented annually to the basketball player who accumulates the most points during the season, was inaugurated.

The fraternity, in conjunction with Rho Gamma Zeta Sorority, sponsors the May-time Ball, a semi-formal affair, which is one of the high spots in the spring social season at the University.

Magnolia Riding Club was the setting for UDS's hard-times party early in March.

National Commerce Professional Sorority

Standing: Iris McDonald, Antoinette LeBay, Helen Jendryka, Fran Perry; sitting: Marion Jost, Mary Diehl and Pat Cottrell. They guide Phi Gam's ventures.

Celebrating its silver jubilee as a national organization has augmented the spirit of Phi Gamma Nu Sorority this year. Members of Zeta Chapter, who will be hostesses for the biennial national convention in June, have spent an extremely active year in preparing for the ostentatious celebration.

The traditional Football Frolic was followed by a formal dinner dance during the Christmas holidays. Founder's Day in February marked the opening of the second semester and pledging days. The spring months saw many pre-convention gatherings of actives and alumnae to plot the June agenda.

The oldest sorority on campus, Zeta Chapter, has been selecting women students from the Commerce College since 1931. It endeavors to promote the spirit of student activity, the aims of the University and opportunities of women in industry.

The "Phi Gamma Nu Scholarship Key" is awarded annually to the graduating co-ed in commerce who has attained the highest scholastic average over the four year period.

Experts in correcting the illusion that engineers are always too involved in thoughts concerning such subjects as the strength of materials and integral calculus, members of Chi Sigma Phi have constructed a smile-clad social tradition.

Founded in 1922, the fraternity has since established an alumni chapter that boasts distinguished graduates of the University.

Two annually successful social projects, The Varsity Ball, a Thanksgiving season "must" for the slip-stick clan, and The Tower Ball, co-sponsored with Comoro Sorority, are enjoyable highlights in the school year of every engineer.

Pledges of the fraternity are selected by applications submitted by students with members' approval. Chi Sigma Phi initiated the use of applications for fraternity membership at the University. A formal dinner dance annually closes the "paddle-warming" pledge period.

Dental Professional Fraternity

For fifty-seven years members of the Dental profession have had their shining dentures in the honored ranks of Psi Omega. Their ideals have been upheld under the effective direction of the fraternity's objective to encourage scientific investigation and to foster an interest in the great works of the world of literature.

Founded in 1892, Psi Omega has become the largest dental fraternity in the world, with chapters operating in all corners of the globe. A sample contribution to the profession is the Big Brother Loan Fund, instituted by the fraternity, which facilitates loans up to $30.00 to all dental students.

Delta Mu Chapter holds monthly meetings that feature prominent speakers selected from specialized fields of the dental world. The season is climaxed with a formal dinner dance after the pledging period during which Psi Omega "actives" apply a vigorous anesthesia to the posteriors of molar-gritting neophytes.

An internationally distributed publication, "The Frater," records the accomplishments of individual members, new developments in dental techniques and communications of interest and benefit to the fraternity in general.

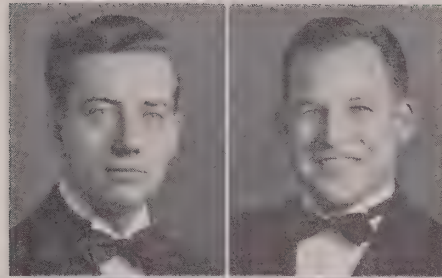

At the initiation dinner, member Dave Foster presents the fraternity's pin to his brother Bill. Subsequent graduations will find three dentists in the family, the two boys being the sons of Dr. R. J. Foster.

Kappa Beta Pi

International Legal Sorority

The honor of being the largest international legal sorority in the world rightfully belongs to Kappa Beta Pi, a sorority that boasts chapters in the far corners of the globe including England, Paris and Shanghai.

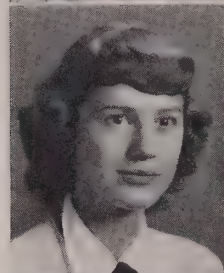

Lambda Chapter, reactivated by four co-ed legal students in September, has been accredited by the American Bar Association. This has given new life to the standards of the sorority. Kappa Beta Pi members receive encouragement and inspiration from the aims of their organization. They endeavor to promote the interest of women toward the legal profession by keeping well-informed of the activities of women in the field, and by striving to maintain the high ideals of their profession.

An international convention highlights each year's activities. The 1949 convention will be held in Pasadena, California, in August.

National Music Sorority

As the campus chapter of Delta Omicron, Beta Chapter has, since its establishment in 1911, constantly directed its efforts toward students of music, professional alumnae and musicians of honorary status.

The national sorority was founded at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music in 1909. It boasts thirty-three active chapters and twelve alumnae chapters throughout the United States.

Delta Omicron aids its members in the formation of character and development of musical proficiency while seeking to maintain a high degree of scholarship among its members. Academic excellence is a necessary requisite for membership and for continued activity in Beta Chapter.

Clubs and Organizations

Mutual interests and friendships draw students into relationships with their fellow students. Clubs and organizations of all sorts and sizes, and representing a multitude of purposes, enable the student at the University to engage in almost any activity which he prefers and enables him to meet others sharing his particular interest.

Under the leadership of President Robert Brady significant physical improvements were made down in the Union Room this year, bringing as close to complete as possible the necessarily space-limited facilities of that place. The new floor, an expanded food counter, new refrigerated coolers and larger coffee urns made possible a better and varied choice on the lunch menu.

The separation of the candy counter from the lunch facilities relieved some of the congestion, but the greatest difference was made by removing two of the pool tables, following a much contested discussion of their relative value.

Another change in policy involved release of reports, both on decisions of the board and on the financial state of the Union, to the student body through the Varsity News. Union elections, held in conjunction with the NSA elections, were handled by the Student Council election committee. Ballot boxes were set up to assure a more representative vote. A major decision involved the removal of the right of the student body to elect representatives from the respective colleges, giving full power to appoint representatives to the president of the Union.

On the activity side the Union Board presented the traditional "Freshman Welcome Dance" during orientation week in September. This was soon followed by their successful handling of the largest float parade in University Homecoming history. The Union-sponsored dance after the bonfire at the Varsity Gardens set the gala weekend in full swing.

Union funds provided the initial financial backing for the Spring Carnival sponsored by NFCCS for foreign student relief. And, as in other years, the Union closed the social year with U of D Night at the State Fair Grounds.

The Women's League is the only distaff organization on campus to which every co-ed belongs. The League Board, composed of a representative elected from every class in every college of the University, acts as an intermediary between the officers and the women on campus. The purpose of the League is the consolidation of co-ed interests and a more efficient program to satisfy the needs of the women on campus, and thus to provide a valuable service to the University.

The initial activity for the year was the traditional Freshman Welcome Tea held in September, at which the League presented a realistic picture of campus life. A fashion show helped to entertain the guests and also to provide them with a basis for the college wardrobe. This year members of Alpha Chi Tau, women's honorary activities sorority, presented a brief sketch of the activities and organizations which are a basis for membership in the sorority.

The Sadie Shuffle, in November, was very well attended by the Daisy Maes and their escorts. A prize was given for the most original "corsage."

From December until March the League worked on a charitable theme, beginning with the Orphans' Christmas Party and concluding with the Box Social held at the Dearborn Veterans' Hospital on the night before St. Patrick's Day.

Chief spring activity for the League was the Mothers' Day Tea, to which every co-ed and her mother were invited. Members of the League presented a fur fashion show for their guests at this, the last of the League's activities for the season.

National Students' Association

Last spring, six delegates were chosen from the student body at large to represent the University at the first annual Congress of the United States National Students Association. The convention, held in August on the campus of the University of Wisconsin, gave to the seven hundred student-delegates an opportunity to discuss their mutual problems, consider the national and international aspects of the student movement and determine the policies of the Association's program for the coming year.

The University delegation returned with several specific projects to be undertaken on the campus. Outstanding among these was the Purchase Card System, in which U of D joined hands with other Detroit area schools, to organize the buying power of local students and produce a workable student discount system. Reorganization of the Student Council, along the lines discussed in NSA workshops on student government, a work that was begun last year, was also an important project of this year's delegation. The NSA News, official publication of the Association, was made available to the students of the University.

Shirley McOsker, Ted Pixley, John Basanese, Jim Kilsdonk, Carl Brown and Tom Brennan were the six delegates, while John Wilder and Pat Blaney were alternate delegates to the Congress. Miss McOsker, the only delegate who had attended the Constitutional Convention in 1947, acted as senior delegate. At the Congress, Wilder was elected Vice-Chairman of the Michigan Region.

Student Council

With faculty board approval stamped on its new constitution the Student Council emerged this year from its infant stage. The first move for the Council was made in the spring of 1947, with all the subsequent meetings and revisions being attempts to formulate a plan of action and to gain acceptance of the same on the campus, from both the faculty and the student body.

Suggestion boxes have been set up on the campus so that students may unfold their ideas to the Council members. A second project was the distribution of rating sheets in the different colleges, so that students might rate their instructors according to the prescribed scale. An investigation of the honor system in use in other universities to check cheating in examinations and class work was also begun.

Along reorganizational lines, the Council revised the procedure for holding the NSA and Student Union elections. It further recommended that Union representatives should be appointed by the Union president instead of elected by the student body as in the past.

Two new seats were awarded on the Council this year, to NFCCS delegates. The remaining Council seats are occupied by: Union and League presidents; Sodality prefect; two NSA delegates; presidents of Alpha Sigma Nu, Alpha Chi Tau and Blue Key; club and organizational representative; fraternity and sorority representative; Dowling Hall, McNichols Evening and Commerce Night representatives; and representatives from the Arts, Commerce, Dentistry, Engineering and Law Colleges.

EDITOR'S NOTE

Another school year is history, the 1949 Tower has come off the presses and the Tower staff has made reservations for the summer months at a nice quiet rest home.

Years ago, before the advent of the yearbook, college students kept scrapbooks of pictures and things as mementos of their years in school. Americans being the kind of people that they are, some bright student decided that this was a frightful duplication of work, and so the first yearbook was born.

All of which sounds very efficient and practical. But it has complications, dear reader, it has complications. When each student kept his own scrapbook, he compiled only that information in which he was interested. The year book being for all the students, it, theoretically, should include everything. Well, we tried.

The keynote of any yearbook is, necessarily, cooperation. The 1949 Tower is no exception. Without the hard work of the staff, this book would never have been printed. I would like to express my sincere and heartfelt thanks to that small but loyal group of men and women whose efforts made this book possible. They have made the difficult job of editor a great deal easier. And you, our readers, ought to thank them too. For, what they did, they did for you.

Conversion to a semi-weekly publication schedule necessitated changes in format and tabloid size, as well as numerous staff additions, for the Varsity News in September.

The ancient tradition of working until midnight Monday and spending all Tuesday at the printer's to meet the Wednesday publication date is gone; but the enlarged staff has new deadlines with twice as many evenings in which to burn that midnight oil.

New positions as well as names appeared in the VN masthead this year. The post of feature editor was abolished, while new slots for copy and night editors were created. In February the job of photo editor was added. Further reorganization included the return of a chief of photography and staff and the expansion of the business department.

In the paper itself, the widest interest in years centered around the "Letters to the Editor" column, where a series of local and international problems were aired and discussed by both students and faculty members.

Policies of the Varsity News, as well as of the other student publications, were determined by the Board of Governors for Student Publications, created in the Spring of 1948. In February changes in the VN and Tower staffs caused promotions to the Board as well.

Law Journal

Perhaps one of the most important activities at the law school, from a professional viewpoint, is the publication of a periodical called the University of Detroit Law Journal.

The magazine began its existence as the Monthly Law Review in 1916 and later was reorganized under its present title. Dean Daniel J. McKenna and Professor Charles P. Nugent served formerly as faculty advisers. The present work, Volume XII, was commenced under the direction of Professor George Deneweth.

Published quarterly during the school year, it is regularly sent forth to its subscribers, including not only practicing attorneys but also the majority of American law schools and courts of last resort, the United States Supreme Court and numerous bar association libraries.

The Journal follows in general the style of a conventional American law review, with leading articles by experts in their fields and with editorials, casenotes, comments and book reviews by the students. The actual editorial work and student writings are done by a group of students carefully selected by the faculty from the junior and senior classes who comprise the editorial board and staff.

The play's the thing—Macbeth and Lady Macbeth as played by Brian McCabe and Eve Ann Schneider.

A dramatic moment from "Ile," as the captain, Jack Kolar, faces the rebellious crew: Sheldon Simons, Peter Rettig, and Lou Bonamy in the foreground.

Tender sentiment, too, in "Ile"—as the captain listens to his wife Annie, played by Mary Ann Brownlee.

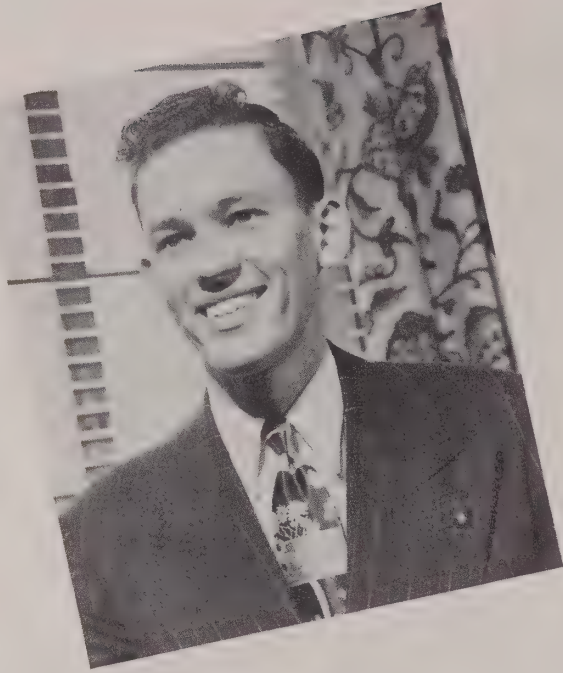

The Players continued a long and successful tradition by opening a new season at Dowling Hall on November 6, 7, 13, and 14 with the Broadway success, "The Hasty Heart." This is a story of how a doomed Scotch soldier with the British Army in Burma learns the meaning of friendship from his fellows. Featured were Marihelene Martin as the nurse, Margaret, and Robert Wesley as Lachlen McGlaughlin.

Just one month later a "double-feature" held the stage at the downtown campus as the Players presented a new short version of "Macbeth" and Eugene O'Neill's play, "Ile." "Macbeth" requires no comment save on the high quality of the production. "Ile" tells a story of sea-fury and the fury of mutinous men, in a play of great interest and merit.

All the other productions led up to the main project of the year for Players: an Easter presentation of the Passion Play, in a version by ex-Player John C. McCabe III. This, the first off-campus production by any University organization since the Union Operas of the early 'thirties, was presented at Music Hall on April 10 and 11. The cast included Robert Wesley as St. Peter; Lou Bonamy as Judas; Brian McCabe as a Roman Soldier, Marius; Marihelene Martin as the Blessed Mother; and John Ternes as the Christ. Musical background for the Passion Play was furnished by the University Choral Society.

Director Giere crowns Jeanne Renaud as Band Queen during the intermission of the U of D - San Francisco game. Miss Renaud was selected by the Band members for the service she had given to the organization.

In the spirit of election year the band began in September with a campaign for new members. By the end of the month they were ready for the first football game and in the weeks that followed continued to furnish the half-time entertainment. Parades and pep rallies were the special stints of the Friday-noon combo's during the football season with effective umpahs from the tuba drawing the crowds from campus. Missouri furnished the arena for the final feat of the band season as it drew to a close with the St. Louis game. The transition into a concert band was already under way as they returned home.

Although it was started last year and so was not entirely new on campus, the concert band surprised most of us with a "season" this year. They blew their first sweet notes in February with a concert at Mercy College. Next was a patriotic bit for the men at Percy Jones Veterans Hospital in March and then back to the scene of last year's concert, the Rackham Memorial, for a two hour concert in April, sponsored by Alpha Sigma Nu, Alpha Chi Tau and Blue Key.

Surrounded by members of the Band, Queen Jeanne smiles happily wearing her regal robes and holding a bouquet of red roses.

Choral Society

In the midst of preparations for their annual Winter Concert at Rackham Memorial in December, members of the Choral Society entered a musical float in the Homecoming Parade and tied with Holden Hall for first place. Winning the Loving Cup for their initial venture into campus competition sparked the group for the rest of the season's agenda.

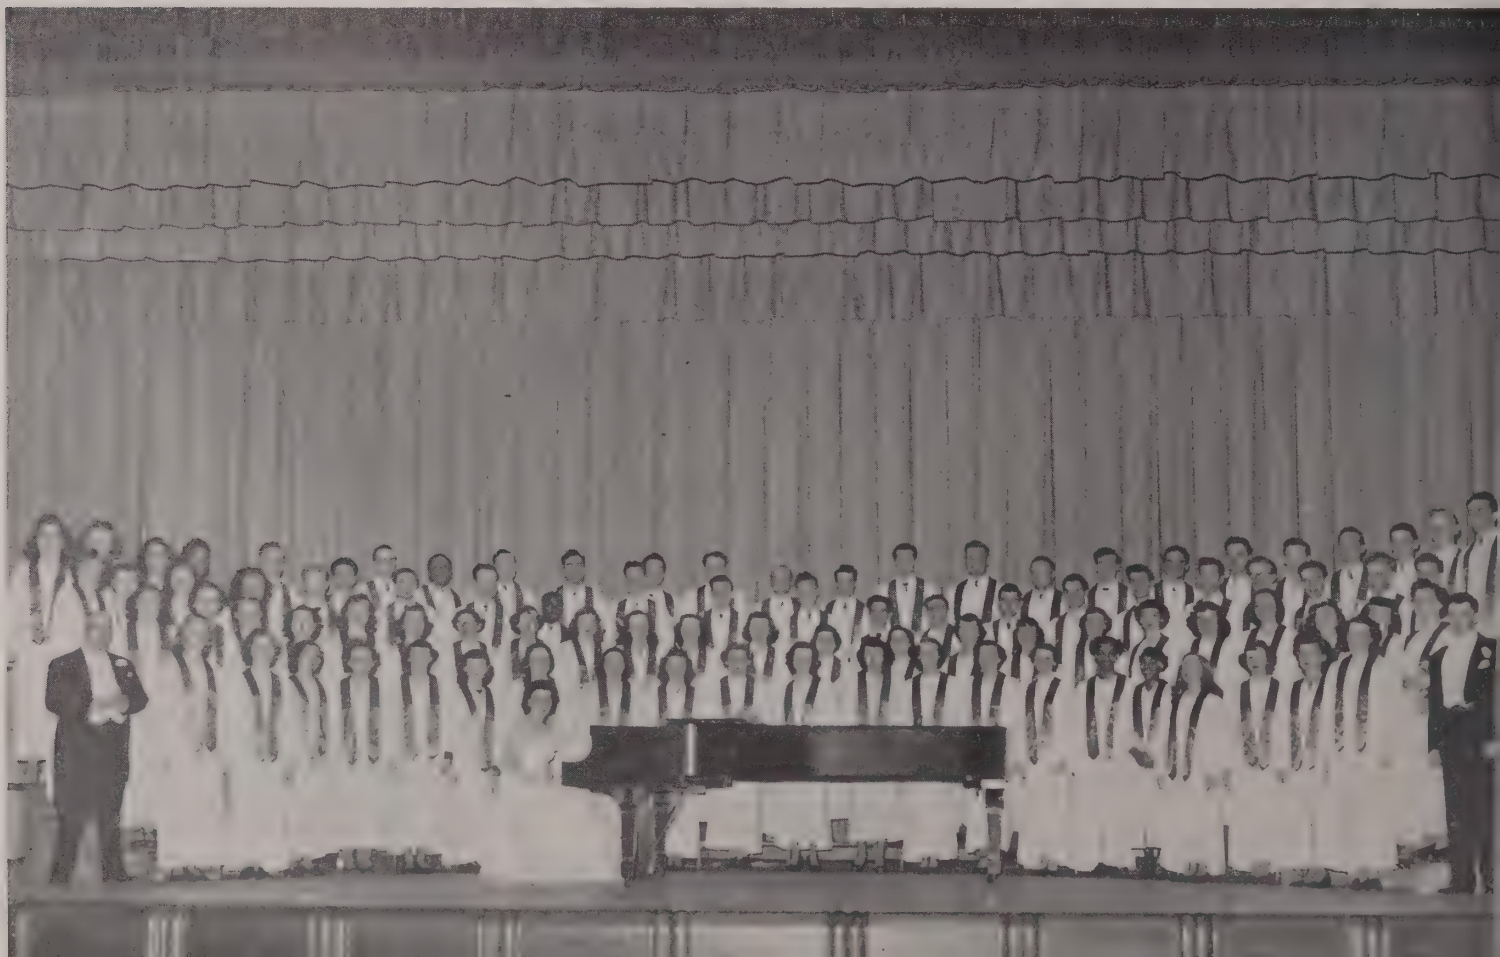

The Society provided the scheduled entertainment for the Christmas meeting of the Women's Guild and, following the concert, were televised singing Christmas carols. This year marked the first appearance of the group in choral robes.

The second semester opened with a concert trip to Monroe, Michigan, sponsored by the Monroe Council of the Knights of Columbus and the University Alumni Association.

March and April found the choralers holding extra rehearsals for the Passion Play presented by the Players at the Music Hall. The Society sang all the interludes in gregorian chant. On Holy Thursday the group made its second appearance at St. Aloysius Church for the Holy Hour at midnight, this time over the air.

The spring concert at Rackham, again featuring a guest soloist, closed the year's activities.

Sodality

Work on the float for Homecoming, a November picnic held at Warren Valley, and the December election and installation of officers at the Communion Breakfast at St. Mary's Chapel, Dowling Hall, completed the reorganization of the Sodality along better functioning lines and ushered in a broader field of activity for the coming year.

At Christmas time the Sodality caroling group serenaded the residents in the vicinity of the Uptown campus, with Mayor Van Antwerp acting as host for a post-caroling social held at his home.

During mid-semester vacation the second annual sleigh-ride brought many Sodalists face to face with the great outdoors, but they were sufficiently recovered for the second Communion breakfast held at Gesu in April.

Mother Nature again played host to the Sodality for the second picnic in the spring, but this time she was a little more gracious.

Included in the projects of the Sodality were the Mission Publicity campaign, Old Magazine campaign, and the Christmas Card sales, all for the benefit of the Missions.

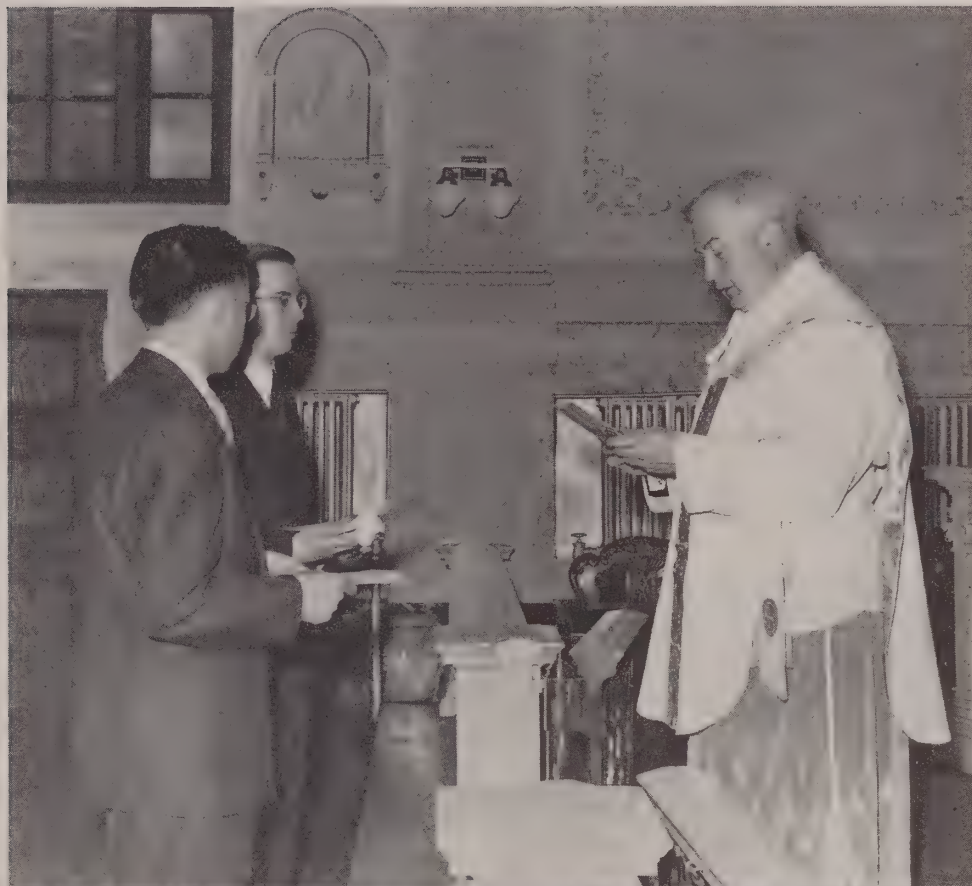

Completing this very active year for the Sodality, the Spring Carnival's exchange ticket booth was handled by the Sodality.

Fr. Joseph A. Foley, S.J., addresses members of the Sodality in Gesu Church during the devotions in Honor of Our Lady of Fatima. The Statue of the Fatima Virgin is enshrined in the sanctuary at the right.

Far below: Sodality meetings for Dowling Hall Freshmen center around the statue of the Blessed Virgin. Fr. Lovely (near windows) is spiritual director for the group.

Since Dowling Hall is only a ten-month period in the student's career, the Dowling Hall Sodality is a training period for future members. Due to the distance between campuses the Dowling Hall Sodality is considered a unit of the Uptown Sodality, with their own officers, but cooperating with the uptown activities.

In cooperation with the Uptown Sodality, the group carried out the various mission campaigns sponsored by the mother group. An added feature is the daily student recitation of the Rosary in SS. Peter and Paul, and the Mass prayers at Assemblies, which are also recited by the students.

A special function, sponsored exclusively by the Downtown Sodality was the Spring Dance, the proceeds from which were donated toward the cost of Our Lady's Building, St. Louis, Missouri.

The Night School Sodality is a completely separate organization from the Day School group, drawing its membership from Commerce Night School students at Dowling Hall. Meetings, held once a week at Dowling Hall, are mostly discussion periods, in which the Catholic attitude toward current problems is explained. Thus, the work of the Night Sodality is one of practical interest to the Commerce student members.

Because of the limited time available to these working students, the activities of the group have been curtailed to the breakfasts sponsored semi-annually in the Fall and Spring. These, plus the special devotions promulgated by the Sodality, provide a more active contact between the students and their faith.

NATIONAL FEDERATION OF CATHOLIC COLLEGE STUDENTS

The National Federation of Catholic College Students includes every student in the member colleges. At the University, the guiding hand in activities is that of Senior Delegate Kenneth Tobola. His lieutenants are Raymond Gribbs, Robert DuLong, Clifford Cronin, Norman Dombrowski and Arthur Sheridan, Junior Delegates. Activities sponsored by this group included participation in conferences, circulation of petitions protesting the persecution of Cardinal Mindszenty, and a poll on the acceptability of various national periodicals.

By far the most important activity of this group was the sponsorship and active direction of the Spring Carnival, an all-University function of large proportions and eminent purpose — namely, support of the drive for relief of students overseas, in the nations where they lack books, school facilities, food and clothing. With a central committee of Ken Tobola, James Collins, Joseph Yob, Harold Roehrig, Mark Devine, and Thomas Brennan, preparations were made to occupy the State Fair Coliseum for the weekend of May 7-8. Almost every organization on the campus sponsored a booth or concession. The Student Council climaxed the Carnival with the presentation of a Lincoln and a Chevrolet to the contest winners.

The directors of the Federation hope to follow this first all-University function with future projects for this same and other worthwhile causes.

The Accounting Association was founded to promote the interests of those students majoring in Accounting, and to develop a closer relationship between members of the association and practicing accountants, whether public or private.

At the meetings of the club, problems particular to accounting are studied and the technique of research in accounting is developed.

ACS is a social and professional society which brings the students to come in close contact with men recognized as leaders in chemistry. It promotes a deeper interest in the subject and a further incentive for chemistry majors. This incentive is increased by the presentation of the Father Morrissey Medal, an annual award presented by the Society for outstanding work in the field of chemistry. It is presented to a student on the University of Detroit campus.

At various meetings, lectures were delivered by men distinguished in the field of chemistry.

The annual spring picnic is the concluding social affair of the year for the organization.

To develop a professional attitude among architectural students and to give some indication of the professional and social problems they will meet after graduation, the AIA invites architects, men from industry, to speak at their meetings on methods, materials and services used in industry.

Various demonstrations by the club supplement the academic schedule with pertinent information about professional work not included in the course.

The Student Chapter of the AIChE holds a dozen meetings a year, three of which are social. At the nine professional meetings the members come into direct contact with the professional men in their field, both formally and informally. During the past year the club heard speakers from the rubber, petroleum, paint and heavy chemical industries.

On the social side, there is the annual dinner, which is held to honor graduating members of the organization.

The National AIEE has its student branch at U. of D., which has established a link between industry and the classroom. This organization stresses the maintenance of a high professional attitude in the members, its purpose being the advancement of the theory and practice of electrical engineering and of the allied arts and sciences, and the development of the individual engineer.

Speakers for the past year included six chief engineers from leading Detroit radio stations. The club also sponsored tours through electrical manufacturing plants in the area.

An attempt is being made to have treatises on electrical engineering written by Detroit students entered in national competition.

The ASCE promotes knowledge in all matters relating to civil engineering, and fosters professional spirit among members. Student activities in the Engineering College are encouraged by the club, as well as fellowship among student engineers.

Notable speakers are presented at the monthly meetings of the organization, and frequently movies are shown on technical subjects. Of these monthly meetings, at least one is planned as a social gathering.

Every year the club stages at least one field trip for the members.

Delegates are sent to the regional convention of the Society, held this year in Ohio, and to the national convention held in the spring, which climaxes the year's events.

One of the many student branches affiliated with the professional ASME, the campus chapter at U. of D. offers to the average student an inside glance at the practical side of engineering by the presentation of discussions of post-graduate problems. All phases of engineering are covered in these discussions, the purpose of which is to present a proper prospective of engineering work.

The various speakers presented by the club help the members to become better acquainted with the personnel and activities of the national society as well as to promote a professional fellowship.

Student veterans of World War II have their own AMVET Post on the campus. Their activities are largely of a social nature but a Service Officer is always on hand to aid any student veteran with his problems concerning the Veterans Administration. Items of interest to the veteran on the local and national level are discussed at the bi-monthly business meeting of the Post.

Social events this year included the Colors presentation ceremony, co-sponsorship of the Colonial Prom, the annual St. Patrick's day party, and the Memorial Day Mass and Communion offered for their fallen comrades.

The Business Club is one of the most recent organizations on campus. Primarily a Commerce club, it furthers interest in finance and business administration subjects and fosters employment for those in the field of commerce and finance.

During the past year the organization has brought men of high caliber into contact with its members. At a meeting open to the entire student body, the president of Burroughs Adding Machine Co., Mr. John Coleman, spoke to the group and presented a film on business administration.

Every year, under the auspices of this club, the Wall Street Journal presents an award of a medal and a free subscription to the Journal to an outstanding finance student. The club itself presents the Executive Journal to the student.

Campus Capers

Campus Capers, an affiliate unit of the Campus Red Cross Chapter, was organized during the war as the University's own USO group, to entertain the veterans in Detroit area hospitals. Because the need for such an organization still remains, Campus Capers is continuing its activities by making regular trips to Percy Jones and the Dearborn Veterans Hospital. An innovation of the club's activities this year was their appearance as the entertainment at the Nite-Owl Mixer, the informal dance given by the evening division.

The theme of Campus Capers, whose membership is entirely voluntary, is free expression, for there is no stereotyped procedure followed in the presentation of the individual singing and dancing acts and the group performances.

The goal for which the organization is striving is the presentation of a complete variety show put on entirely by the club.

Membership in the Cooley Law Club is voluntary but is limited to juniors and seniors in Law School of good scholastic standing.

Procedure at the weekly meetings, held at Dinan Hall, familiarizes the members with appellate practice and with parliamentary procedure. In actual practice, cases are appealed to the Supreme or Appellate Court, where the two opposing counsels argue from briefs prepared for the occasion, and a decision is rendered by the justices. So in the Cooley Law Club two members, acting as opposing counsels, argue an issue before a bench of five members, acting as justices. Briefs must be submitted to the clerk four days in advance of the meetings.

The Debate Club is a voluntary non-credit speech society, formed at the University among interested students. A member of the Michigan Intercollegiate Speech League, the debate teams have travelled to the University of Michigan, Michigan State Normal at Ypsilanti, the Detroit Institute of Technology and Wayne University.

Meetings are held frequently during which the members practice debating and criticizing debates. From time to time speakers are presented.

The general topic for the Debate Club this year has been "Federal Aid to Education."

Activities of the Club were terminated by the annual banquet held in the spring.

The Education Club, although still in its infant stage, shows great possibilities of being a strong organization on campus.

Through membership in this club the increasing number of education students on campus are initiated into the teaching profession by degrees, with helpful hints and suggestions given them by frequent speakers and fellow members.

However, adhering to the theory that all work and no play dulls the wits of prospective teachers, a very adequate social calendar is provided. Hayrides, picnics and parties are among the many activities sponsored by this organization.

Meetings of the Flying Club are held at school every two weeks, with business and pleasure somewhat intermixed. Students interested in flying are welcomed into the club, because it combines both the theoretical and practical aspects of flying. Club members have recently purchased their own plane, a Cessna 120, which is kept at the Joy Airport.

The Flying Chapter of the club, called the "Flying Titans," participated this past year in the National Intercollegiate Flying Meet held at Willow Run. Having gained a team trophy for their accuracy in spot landings, the club plans to attend next year's meet, which will be held at Fort Worth, Texas, with Texas Christian University acting as host for the event.

Membership in the French Club, or Le Cercle Francais as they call it, is open to all students who are interested in French culture and customs, and wish to develop their linguistic ability beyond the classroom level.

At the regular meetings of the Club, guest speakers are presented, and these speakers, together with the French majors, keep the Club informed about technicalities of usage, changes in custom and preferred pronunciation.

Movies, song fests and discussions augment the speakers in the activities of the Club.

In this manner they are able to get first-hand information about particular points which are too specific for class study.

Traditional at these meetings is the Kaffee Klatch, a sort of informal coffee session. During the meetings of the past year the members translated popular songs and held song sessions, which were augmented by German records.

At other meetings the members discussed German plays, and German movies which were attended by the society. The annual spring outing, at Frankenmuth, is the climax of the year's events.

The number of professional engineering societies on campus was increased in November, 1948, when the Institute of Radio Engineers, Inc. approved formation of a student branch at the University. This Branch is the outgrowth of what formerly was the Radio Club. Its general purpose is for discussion of the theory and practice of electronics, communications, and other related fields.

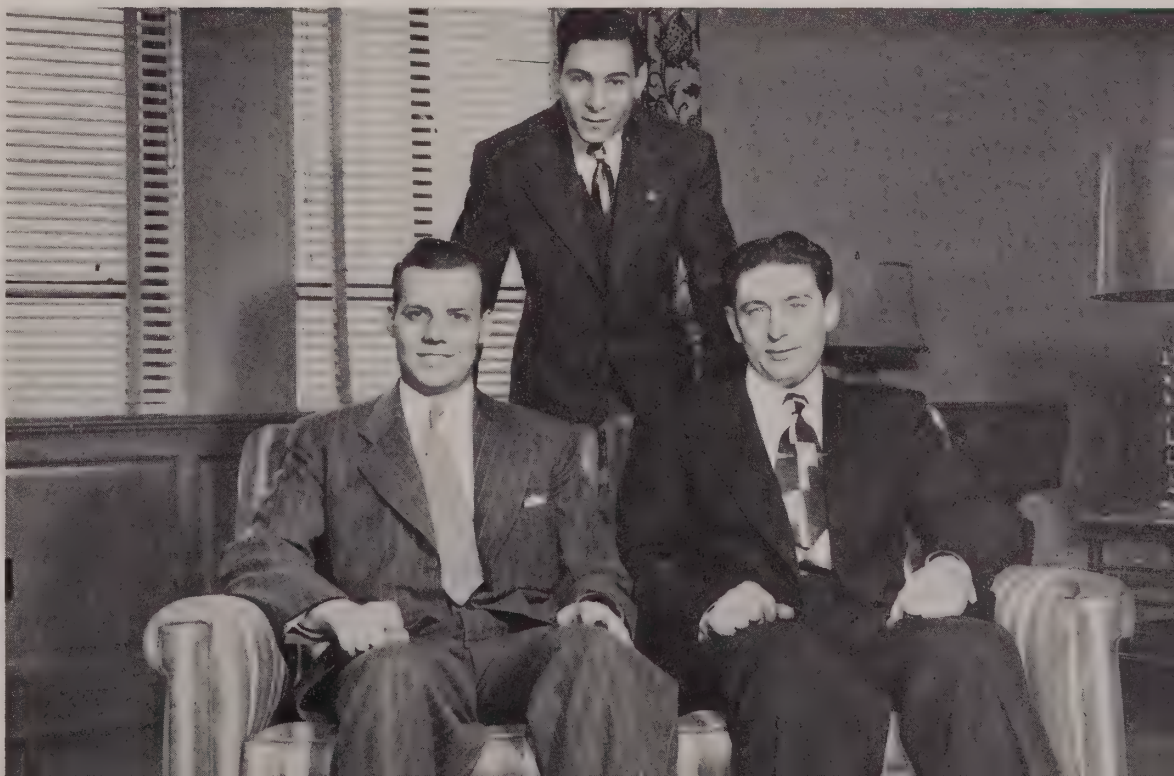

In cooperation with AIEE, the club has sponsored a round table discussion on FM and AM by engineers from several of the commercial broadcasting stations in the Detroit area, and in planning a similar discussion on Television in the near future.

A short wave station, W8LGA, is being operated by the club, and has reported contacts with a large number of distant countries.

Their workshop is being constantly improved to provide members with ample facilities for correlating theory and practice in the electronics field.

The organizational meeting of the Italian Club was held on the uptown campus in December, 1948. Students of Italian descent and all other students who are interested in studying Italian customs and culture are eligible for membership in this club. Like many of the other organizations on campus, the Italian Club has for its over-all purpose the unification and promotion of school spirit and the creation of a closer fellowship of students.

The first social affair sponsored by the club was the Valentine Day Dance held in February. Future plans for the club include guest speakers, movie parties and discussion of operas.

Meetings of the Manuscribblers are devoted primarily to discussion and constructive criticism of short stories submitted by the members, and by doing so, to foster and encourage creative writing in students at the University.

Two intra-club short story contests have been sponsored by the society. The first was won by Thomas Steiner and the second by John Lizza. Both stories concerned a sociological theme. A third contest was held in the spring.

The main project of the Manuscribblers is the short story contest open to all undergraduates at the University. The Gold Cup, annual award of the society, is presented to the winner at the spring banquet.

Under the sponsorship of the American Marketing Association, the Student Marketing Club of the University was activated on October 29, 1948, with membership being open to anyone who is taking a marketing course.

In order to fulfill the over-all purpose of the club, which is to develop sound thinking in marketing theory and more exact knowledge and definition of marketing principles, the members are striving for a better public understanding and appreciation of marketing problems. This, together with scientific study and research in the field and an improvement in marketing personnel, should make this most recent addition to campus organizations, a very worthwhile project.

The Moot Court Club of the Law School holds mock trials twice a month throughout the school year to acquaint and prepare law students for the actual practice of law and to give to the student trial experience not offered by present law schools.

All the participants in this courtroom procedure are law students with the exception of the presiding judge, who is ordinarily a judge of either the Common Pleas Court of the City of Detroit, Circuit Court for the County of Wayne, or Recorder's Court for the City. These judges volunteer their services to the club, which has been sanctioned by the Law School.

The Guild arranges meetings and round table discussions, and provides opportunities for close observation of the press at work, together with professional criticism of student work.

Speakers at recent meetings included Paul Weber, Press Secretary for the Governor, Marguerite Gahagan, Detroit News reporter, and Ted Peck, Detroit Guild president.

The journalistic seminar, "Inside Journalism," was sponsored by the Guild this year at Dowling Hall. The speakers included Donald Schram, State Editor of the Free Press, Helen Bowers, drama critic for the Times, and John Burns of the city prosecutor's office.

The Polud Club is a unique language club on campus because it is not connected with the language department but is only for the unification and enjoyment of Polish students on campus. Formed to study the culture and customs of Poland, and to promulgate the exchange of ideas among the members, the club holds informal meetings frequently during the school year.

The activities of the past year included a Christmas party, "Wigilia," given in conjunction with the Polish group from St. Marys of Orchard Lake, a toboggan party for the members, and participation in the annual Pulaski Day parade in downtown Detroit.

Many varied activities are planned for the club's steadily increasing membership.

The excitement created by the founding of the St. Francis Club has subsided somewhat, but the activity of the house on Livernois has not. Here the out-of-town students still get home cooked meals, a place to relax, and a comfortable, home-like atmosphere in which they can study or talk with their fellow students. The cooperative system of dish-washing still remains in effect, and the boys seem to enjoy it.

Mrs. Patricia James, chief cook at the club for 6 years, died shortly before Christmas, but her daughter, Mrs. Margaret Jeffries, carries on in her place.

Proof of the spirit of the members of the St. Francis club was evidenced by the pre-game pep rallies which they sponsored in Sacred Heart Square during the football season.

The activities of the society are not restricted to land vehicles, but extend to aircraft and marine vessels as well.

The organization's activities include movies, guest speakers, student projects, student speakers, plant trips and participation in school activities. The section is a charter member of the Engineering Student Counsel.

The Varsity Club is an organization composed of all lettermen on campus. It was founded in 1947 to unite the athletes in a friendly spirit of cooperation, to bolster school spirit and to render service to the University.

For the past two years the Club has presented a Titan gridder voted the most valuable player with an award recognizing his service to the school.

The Trophy Dance was sponsored by the club to raise funds for the purchase of a trophy which was presented to the Missouri Valley Conference. This trophy will be presented to the school in the conference which accumulates the most points in all sports.

The Alumni year has been an active one, with many new features on the program, and several new groups within the organization. Among these are a Stadium Club and alumni clubs in Toledo, Grand Rapids, Cleveland, and the Saginaw Valley. The new events included a Down-East Clambake and a weekly buffet luncheon for the Grandstand Coaches after each football game.

The season also witnessed renewals of such important annual events as Alumni Day, the football banquet, Dental Alumni Homecoming and publication of the Alumni Bulletin.

Other doings of note were a reunion of the Class of 1925, a D-club banquet for athletes and a Founders' Day celebration in November by Delta Sigma Pi alumni. Alpha Chi alumni presented a fund to the University to continue the scholarship they inaugurated two years ago. The alumni office also arranged a Choral Club concert in Monroe and participated in the annual American Alumni Council conferences.

The efforts of the Alumnae Organization this year resulted in accomplishments meriting attention from both the faculty and the student body. Besides the usual business and social meetings were the Christmas Party at Rackham Memorial, the tea in honor of Fr. Millor in February, the annual bridge party in Gesu Hall in May, at which gift certificates from D. J. Healy Shops were awarded, and the traditional breakfast in June for the graduating women students.

Since founding the Fr. Siedenbergh Scholarship Fund several years ago, the Alumnae has been working towards completing a building fund of their own, to be used in furnishing a room at the University for co-ed functions on the campus. Besides this project it was decided this year to present to the undergraduate women students a gift suitable for their immediate use, the first choice being a juke box for the League Room.

In March the Alumnae named Dr. Mary Margaret Frazer as their "Woman of the Year." Chosen for her outstanding work in the field of cancer diagnosis, Dr. Frazer is the first University woman to be so honored. The practice of selecting a "Woman of the Year" was inaugurated this year as a means of recognizing those alumnae who distinguish themselves in their fields.

Women's Guild

There is an organization affiliated with the University whose membership is open to mothers and guardians of present and former students of the school, and whose purpose is to offer a cultural program to these women. That group is the Women's Guild. Meetings, held the second Tuesday of every month, are designed to be primarily cultural, to acquaint the mothers and guardians with the outstanding professors on campus and to familiarize them with the campus itself.

Every year the Guild plans one main activity to raise funds to benefit the student body. The china and silver sets in use at the University are gifts of the Guild.

This year the Guild inaugurated the contribution tea held in the Spring. The purpose of the tea was to raise funds to furnish a room in the new library. Thus is the exchange of service between the Women's Guild and the University: a cultural program from the school and service from the Guild.

The frosh took over April 22nd with the informal Frosh Frolic staged in the three ballrooms of the Book Cadillac. # Soph Snowball

The first class dance of the year stressed a winter theme as the Sophomores presented their annual Soph Snowball in the Grand Ballroom of the Statler Hotel.

Ray Gorrell and his band furnished the tempo as we danced the eve of Thanksgiving into the morn with little difficulty. Enthusiastic student support filled the ballroom to capacity with sophomores and seniors, juniors and freshmen, eager to begin the cycle of class dances.

Junior Prom

Traditionally the largest social event of the year, the J-Prom is also the outstanding social success as students flock to the mid-winter dance. January 28th, the Fountain Ballroom of the Masonic Temple filled with a student body ready to see a J-Prom at its best.

The ballroom took life as a happy crowd made the best of Gene Krupa's music and danced the hours away; few, if any, mindful of the absence of the long established grand march which capacity crowds had made impossible.

Senior Ball

For their final role as hosts, the seniors chose Jean Goldkette's Fantasia, the former Latin Quarter, the music of Del Delbridge's Orchestra, and added a floor show as the final touch in entertainment for their Senior Ball. June 13th, the class of "degree candidates" dined, danced, and enjoyed their final swirl of college social life.

Homecoming

The fierce competition of Homecoming, the "secret" floats, the bruised underclassmen, and the smokey atmosphere were a tribute to the success of this year's festivities. The activities started with the sophs burning the wood pile a few times before Thursday night with the rest following in close succession.

The parade with its thirty-odd floats starred Holden Hall's "Widow Nova" and the Choral Club's "Dear Old U of D," with the Alpha Chi's coming in second and Phi Gamma Nu taking third place. The din of the parade merged with the fox trot as we left the bonfire to shuffle the night away at the Union Dance in the Varsity Gardens. Friday evening brought the fatal game with Villanova. Saturday found the more hardy at the Alumni Clam Bake in the Northwest Sportsmen's Club and, still energetic, we ended the celebration and the night with the Grid Season Dance at the Tuller Hotel.

Left: Jim Massey introduces the queen and her entourage to the student body as Union President Bob Brady looks on. Insert: Thursday night we danced at the Varsity Gardens. Right: Ray Marusa gives a lesson in float making.

Homecoming found the frosh acting as "Keepers of the flame," though hampered by soph attempts to prematurely light the bonfire.

The Choral Club's novel notes helped them tie for the trophy.

The Magi entry depicts the general theme of the floats. . . . It is regrettable that wildcats come so strong.

Clowns and curious crowds milled about the practice field before the parade.

Sports

If you have never stood up for a kick-off, nor seen a ball team win in the last few seconds of a game, or lose a close one, brother, you haven't lived!

If you have spent four years at the University and haven't done any of these things, you have missed an opportunity which you will never meet again.

Of all the memories which our senior will carry away with him, the most vivid will be of the hours he spent in the stadium cheering for the Titans.

Sports may not rate very high in a breakdown of the essentials of a college education, but any student can tell you that they meant a lot to him during his stay at the University.

Americans are a sports-loving people. And no one takes his sports more seriously than the American college man. At this school, we take a back seat to no one in athletics. We play them and support them to the extent of our facilities and abilities.

Missouri Valley Conference

University of Detroit, joining the Missouri Valley Conference for its first competition this spring, is entering what one observer calls "the most unrecognized, most ignored and most victorious" athletic group in the nation.

The Conference was formed in 1907 and has had 19 members at one time or another. Iowa pulled out in 1911 to join the Big Ten. Oklahoma, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas State and other Big Seven powers have held membership. The seven schools that now make up the Conference are maintaining high competitive standards. This is the background on the six members, excluding the University of Detroit:

Bradley was founded in 1897 by Mrs. Lydia Moss Bradley, member of a pioneer Peoria, Illinois, family. It was known as Bradley Polytechnic Institute and gained full collegiate status in 1911. In 1946 it became a university. Enrollment is 3,650. The athletic plant consists of a gymnasium and fieldhouse. Building plans call for a 10,000 seat fieldhouse. Basketball is played in the state armory, with 5,000 capacity. Football games are in Peoria Municipal Stadium seating 25,000. High spot in Bradley football came in the 1938-40 period when the Braves tied Illinois and Chicago while rolling up an unbeaten string of 20 games.

Drake University was founded in 1881 by Des Moines educators. Present enrollment is 4,000. Drake stadium, seating 18,500, is the home of Bulldog football teams. Each spring the Drake Relays are held there. Drake Fieldhouse has a regulation basketball court and a 12-lap-to-the-mile running track. Seating capacity is 7,500. Drake has won four Conference titles in football, tied for three in basketball, won four in outdoor track, six in indoor track, two in cross-country and one in swimming.

Oklahoma A. and M. was established in 1890 by the first legislature of the territory of Oklahoma. First classes were in the Congregational Church of Stillwater, Oklahoma, with 45 students. Today, the campus is 1,280 acres and has 36 major buildings, with a $17,000,000 building program under way. Enrollment is 7,334 men and 3,672 women. The athletic plant includes Lewis Field, with a 31,000 capacity; Gallagher Hall, a fieldhouse holding 9,600; a gym with a 60 foot swimming pool; a quarter-mile track and 10 tennis courts. Expansion plans include a 20,000 capacity fieldhouse and a 50,000 stadium. The Aggies won in the Cotton Bowl in 1945 and the Sugar Bowl in 1946. They captured the NCAA basketball crown in 1945 and 1946. Altogether, A. and M. has produced 50 NCAA individual champions and 21 Olympic team members.

One year after the first steamboat nosed its way up the Mississippi, St. Louis University was founded by the Jesuit fathers. That was in 1818. From a small frame building which housed its first classes, the university has developed into 20 individual schools, with an enrollment of 12,000. Athletic facilities include Walsh Memorial Stadium, seating 20,000, and St. Louis U. gym, capacity, 4,000. At present the Billikens play basketball in Kiel Auditorium, seating 11,400. In the last three seasons, St. Louis cagers have won 57 games, while losing 15. The 1947-48 team, headed by Easy Ed Macauley, won the National Invitation crown in Madison Square Garden.

University of Tulsa was founded by a missionary to the Indians in 1840 when he accepted "meal and other produce" in return for teaching six girls of the Five Civilized Tribes "to become ladies." Out of this Indian Mission school in Muskogee, Oklahoma, grew Henry Kendall College, which was moved to Tulsa and opened its doors the day Oklahoma gained statehood. In 1920 the name was changed to University of Tulsa. Enrollment is 4,600. Skelly Stadium seats 22,000 and the Tulsa Armory has 3,000 seats for basketball. The Hurricanes won or tied for the Conference football title 11 times since 1935. From 1941 through 1945, the Hurricanes appeared in five bowl games.

Wichita was founded as Fairmount College in 1895 by the Congregational Church. In 1926, the people of Wichita voted to take over the college, support it by taxes, and rename it University of Wichita. Enrollment is 3,100. Veterans Field is the home of Shocker football teams. Expansion plans call for an increase from 13,500 to 23,000 capacity. Other athletic units are Hendrion Fieldhouse, capacity 2,000, and a track stadium seating 3,000.

Intensive blocking and tackling, hard running and kicking, add up to friendly rivalry and keen competition on the gridiron where the men struggle valiantly during the fall season for the glory of the Red and White.

Administration

Lloyd Brazil, the University's athletic director, has risen from player to coach to administrator. He has been on the athletic scene ever since the fall of 1926 when, as a lean, loose-jointed youth, he first starred on the athletic field.

As a schoolboy at Flint Central, Brazil starred in football, basketball, and baseball, winning ten major letters. In the next four years at the University, he became a triple-threat man on the gridiron and a mainstay on the cage team.

In 1928, Brazil became the first Titan in history to be named on an All-America team.

Since the day Brazil took over the basketball coaching duties in 1930, his climb to the top as a coach has been rapid. Along the way he has served as football backfield coach, graduate manager of athletics, head baseball coach and business manager. He also qualifies as an amateur fight referee, professional football official, basketball referee and baseball umpire.

Coaches

Charles E. (Chuck) Baer was imported from the University of Illinois to guide the Titans in 1945 when football was reinstated as an inter-collegiate sport at the University after the war.

Since that time, Coach Baer has established an enviable record with his teams. His 1947 Titans earned first place among the nation's collegiate teams in ground gained rushing and took third place in total yardage.

Baer was graduated from the University of Illinois in 1929, after aiding the Illini to win Big Ten titles in 1927 and 1928, as a guard. He was head coach at Emerson Junior High School of Gary, Indiana, from 1929 to 1931 and head coach at Lew Wallace High in Gary from 1931 to 1942. During his stay at Wallace, his teams won five city titles, two Calumet District championships, two northern Indiana titles and one state crown.

In 1942, Baer joined Ray Eliot's staff at Illinois and his fine performance prompted his selection by the University's Board of Athletic Control as the man to lift the Titans back to their pre-war heights.

The 1948 season was the last year of independent play for Coach Baer and his gridders. In 1949, the Titans will begin active participation in football in the Missouri Valley Conference.

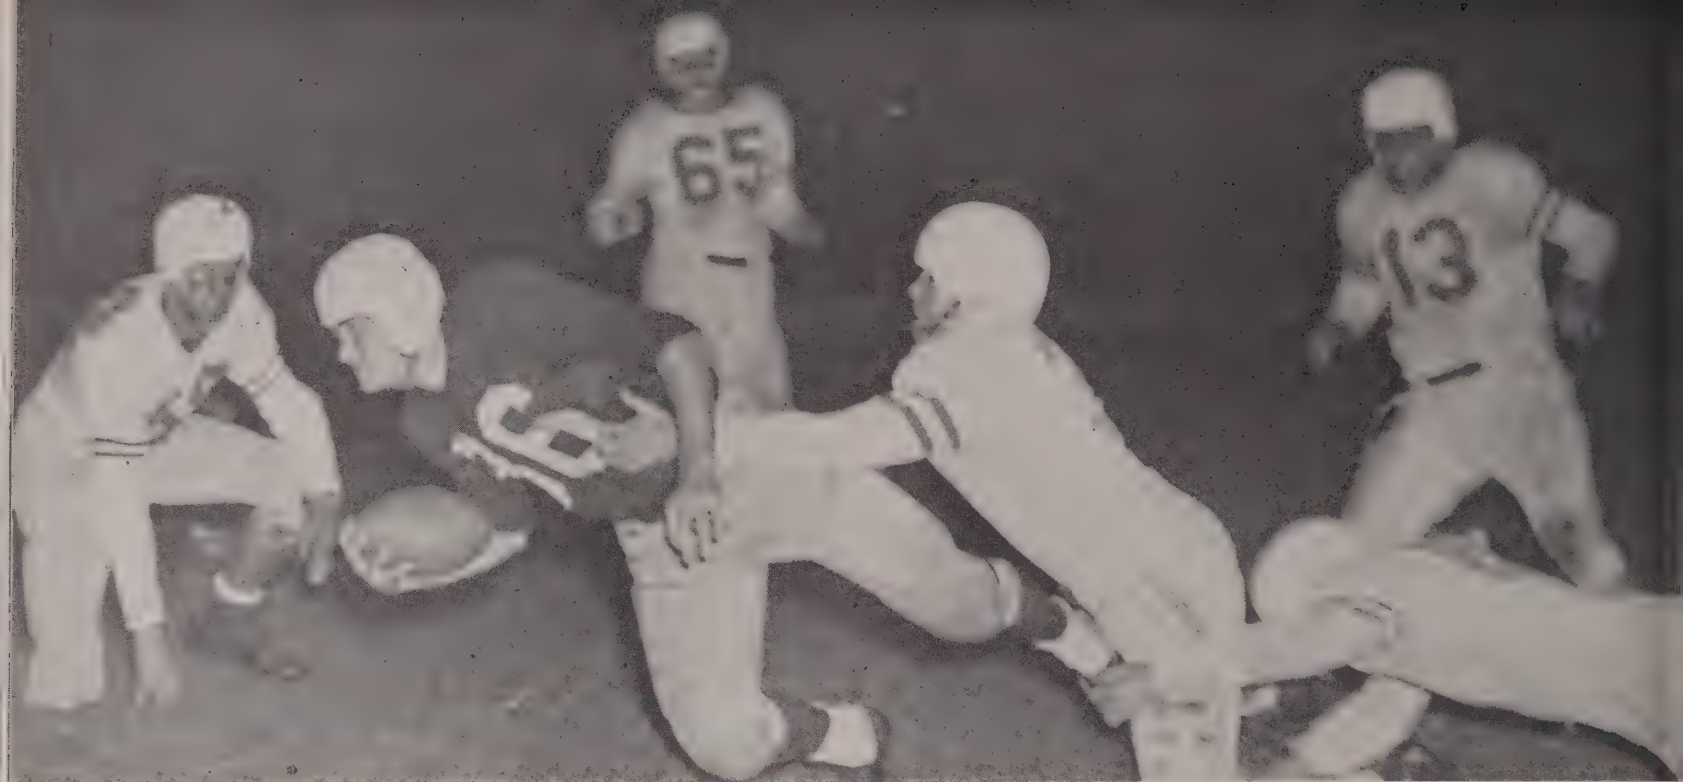

Charles E. Baer

Detroit 36-0 Toledo

The Titans opened their 1948 season with an impressive victory over the University of Toledo before a near capacity crowd in the U. of D. Stadium. The three thousand Ohioans who journeyed to Detroit to see the game lost hope of a Rocket victory when the Red and White scored twice in the first half. Then, in the second half, the Titans turned the game into a rout, scoring five more touchdowns, two of which were only eighteen seconds apart. Seven Toledo fumbles aided the Detroit cause considerably. Local fans, who were much pleased by the proceedings, began predicting big things to come.

An underdog Detroit team confounded the experts by turning back power-laden Marquette in their second game of the season. The Hilltoppers had lost a close one to Iowa the week before and were picked to break into the winning column against Detroit. But the inspired Titans changed their minds by scoring three times in the first half, two by Wright and one on an eighty-seven yard run by Massey. The red and white came back and added two more markers in the second half, before Marquette pushed across its lone touchdown against Detroit's third team. The Titan victory more than avenged last year's defeat.

A driving rain threatened to make this game a most uncomfortable one for both players and spectators. The rain, however, obligingly stopped just before the kickoff, and the Titans, at full strength for the first time during the season, made the San Francisco Dons the victims of a rout. Driving down the field and scoring almost at will, Detroit tallied six times to one for the Dons. Superb line play and blocking allowed the Titan backs to have a field day. Defensively, the Titans played heads-up football and recovered fumbles and intercepted passes set up several Detroit scores. The lone San Francisco score came early in the third quarter after the Dons recovered a Detroit fumble.

Miami 6-0 Detroit

The Titans suffered their first defeat of the season at the hands of an inspired Miami team that scored early in the first period and then held Detroit scoreless through the rest of the game. On four occasions the Red and White drove deep into Miami territory but failed to score. On one of these drives, Tom Costello caught a pass inside the five yard line which might have led to a score for Detroit, but the officials ruled that his knee had touched the ground. A scoring prospect late in the final period brought the crowd to their feet. With Wright and Kurkowski alternately carrying the ball, the Titans moved to the Miami ten yard line. However, a fumble on the next play was recovered by Miami as the game ended.

Four Wayne men had to team up to knock "five yards per try" Mike Kaysserian out of bounds.

Detroit 13-0 Wayne

A surprisingly strong Wayne University eleven invaded the Stadium this year to change the usual tenor of the annual intracity tilt. Three scoreless periods left 20,000 spectators asking, "Can it be? Is this going to be Wayne's year?" Only after a third quarter goal line stand, in which Big John Conti proved to the Tartars that Detroit wouldn't give in, did the Titans begin to roll. A seventy-three yard drive featuring O'Malley, Boisture, Kaysserian, and Kurkowski broke the ice early in the final quarter. Then, in the last half minute of play, O'Leary scored for the Titans after intercepting a Wayne pass, and the east stands looked at the scoreboard and smiled.

Homecoming week-end, a sellout crowd, and Detroit's traditional rival, Villanova, made this game the high spot of the season. When, early in the first quarter, Wally Gruber took the ball on his own three yard line and raced ninety-seven yards to score the longest touchdown in Detroit's history, the fans confidently expected victory over the Titan's traditional rivals. But the fans reckoned without the powerful Villanova team. Although they trailed until late in the second quarter, the Wildcats came back with a vengeance, scoring twice before the half. Villanova scored two more in the second half to put the game on ice and perpetuate the "Villanova Jinx" over Detroit.

A third quarter field goal helped the University of Denver's Pioneers defeat the Titans in their first road game of the season. Detroit led through most of this scoring duel, holding a halftime margin of one point, and leading at the end of the third period by five points. About midway in the fourth period, a fourth down pass, and an end around, paid off, putting Denver in the lead. Then Detroit came back, with O'Conner passing to Gruber for forty yards, and Kaysserian driving over from the two. But the home team wouldn't quit, using the remaining four minutes to pass their way to another touchdown and victory.

Detroit 26-22 Tulsa

Journeying to Tulsa for the season's finale, the Titans were nearly upset by the Golden Hurricanes who came from behind after Detroit had compiled a three touchdown lead in the first half. The first score came in the opening quarter when the Titans took the ball deep in their own territory and marched 92 yards to a touchdown with Jack O'Leary scoring on a 20-yard sprint. Tulsa came back to tie the score when Jimmy Finks, the nation's number two passer, threw a 60 yard pass for a score. Another interception, this one by Ed Jaekle, started the team on its third touchdown drive which was climaxed by Jack Kurkowski battering his way for 13 yards and a score. Another touchdown on a short pass from O'Connor to Wright ended the scoring for the first half. A rejuvenated Tulsa squad returned in the second half to score two touchdowns while keeping the Titans scoreless. A determined Hurricane drive in the closing minutes of the game was checked by Jack La Noue's pass interception on the Detroit one yard line. To both freshmen and senior the Saturday night basketball game ends the school week just as surely as the Monday morning class begins it. # Trophy Winners

Warren Hintz

Don Wattrick Efficiency Award

For the second straight season Warren has been judged the Titan's top all-around cager and has again been honored with this award. Shooting ability from the pivot spot and six feet-five inches of height have made the Engineering junior one of the team's greater assets. He is second in points scored this season with 173. Warren's congeniality has made him popular with his baseball and basketball teammates and he is co-captain of both teams this season.

John Kirwan

Upsilon Delta Sigma Award

John, the captain-elect for the 1949-1950 Titan cage team, is the eighth man in the University's basketball history to reach the 200 point mark for a single season. His sensational late season performances, in which he averaged 16 points per game for the last 5 games, enabled the Titan's to finish over the .500 mark in games won. This fast, sharp-shooting law freshman has a chance to gain a place among the University's all-time high scorers by the end of his collegiate basketball career.

Dick O'Rourke

Most Improved Player Award

Although this is Dick's first year of varsity ball, he is no stranger to Detroit basketball fans. He was an all-city center at Pershing High School in 1946. The six foot-four inch sophomore is noted especially for his marksmanship from the corners. Dick has been heralded as one of the better Titan prospects, gifted with an abundance of basketball sense. The improvement for which Dick was cited is especially significant in that he is a sophomore with two years of eligibility to which to look forward.

The Calihan era was launched in truly grand fashion. Pre-season reports expressed wonder as to how well the coach would do in his first year without adequate gymnasium facilities and with limited material from last year's squad.

The Assumption game was the first word of the answer which was completed by the twenty-one ensuing contests. Our cagers fought Assumption with unprecedented vitality. In the first half the Titans had a bit too much of Assumption's sharp-shooting center, Freddy Thomas. In the second half, Detroit staged a rally climaxed by John Kirwan's tying free-throw in the closing seconds. The overtime period ended with the Titans forging to the long end of the 61-58 score.

Prestige was the fruit of the next tilt with Purdue's Boilermakers. At half-time the score was knotted at 21 points. The Big Ten team was not to be out-done, however, and their added experience was a determinant which proved sufficient as they gained and truly earned a 51-42 decision.

In the following contests, the Titans downed Michigan Normal, Kalamazoo in a close battle, and Mississippi College. The eastern trip proved too exhausting for the team and they lost to Seton Hall, Loyola (Balt.) and Siena in three consecutive games in as many days.

Forward

The Marquette game at Lincoln High must be mentioned among the highlights of the cage season. Marquette, with Forward Frank Graff sinking seven field goals, surged to a comfortable 30-15 half-time lead.

The second half, however, was all Detroit's. The Titans, playing obviously inspired ball, checked the Marquette and Graff offensive allowing only 6 points while chalking up 21. The drives of both teams with the score tied at 38 points with only two minutes and forty seconds remaining, were frenzied. At one minute and ten seconds before the final whistle, Mel Patterson of Marquette fouled Joe Wright in a desperate attempt to gain possession of the ball. At sixty-six seconds, Wright's free throw filled the bucket for the point which proved to be the margin of victory. Fans could hardly believe the surprising reversal of events leading to this major upset and many remember the contest as the game of games in the 1948-49 cage season.

The John Carroll contest at Lincoln High was slow in starting. The Titans waited a bit too long before coming to life and they lost 45-41.

The Titans went to East Lansing to meet a traditional conqueror, Michigan State. Here they lost their twenty-seven game of the thirty-three game series 66-49.

The Titans recovered surprisingly well from this setback and five days later edged the Spartans 35-34 in a thriller. State set the pace, leading for seventeen of the first twenty minutes. The half-time score was Detroit 22, State 18. Titan over-anxiousness in the first eight minutes of the second half gave State ten free throws, seven of which were converted into points tying the score at 25. Quick baskets by McNamara, O'Rourke and Hintz gave Detroit 10 points and proved enough to win the tilt. In the last fifty seconds, the Spartans, trailing by one point, fought wildly for possession of the ball to score the winning point. However, in the attempt they fouled Detroit players five times and the game ended, Detroit victorious, 35-34.

Kalamazoo, on their home court, surprised the surprising Titans 48-42. The shock proved beneficial as the University's cagers took the next three opponents, Hillsdale, Michigan Normal and Wayne, in stride. Wayne was a strong contender throughout the first half, trailing by one point at half-time. The first minutes of the second half were hotly contested as the teams knotted the score five times. Wayne put themselves at a disadvantage by over-fouling. Several regulars were forced to leave the game. The Titans turned the game into a rout and emerged victorious, 63-50.

The Titans' next encounter with Loyola of Chicago was an experience but hardly a basketball game. Loyola, one of the nation's top five teams, definitely outclassed the Titans and scored almost at will to win 59-25, the fifth most decisive defeat suffered by the Titans in their basketball history.

For the first time in the Wayne-Detroit basketball series, the Titans won both contests of a season. The second tilt was staged at the Coliseum, where about 2200 people witnessed our cagers turn the trick 45-38. Warren Hintz was the high point man for the Titans with 15 points, Kirwan close behind with 13.

The cagers took to the road for the last four games. Marquette took ample revenge for their early season defeat by stunning the Titans 71-47, a defeat equally as decisive as that dealt by Loyola (Chicago). The Titans absorbed a second trimming two days later from the Ramblers of Loyola, 72-42.

The final bright spot of the 1948-49 campaign before finishing with a 67-55 victory over Western Ontario, was the Titan's conquest of John Carroll, 56-45. John Kirwan lead the way with 16 points. The victory was a surprise in that the Clevelanders had so completely foiled the Titan attack in their first meeting at Lincoln High. In that game they held a comfortable 10 point lead until the dying minutes of the game when the Titans hit with several very long shots.

Robert J. Calihan

Basketball Coach

It is often said that an ounce of inspiration is worth a pound of instruction. From the estimable record compiled by the 1948-1949 Titans cagers it is evident that the University's favorite basketball son, Robert J. Calihan, has both thoroughly inspired and diligently instructed his team. Calihan has given us the first winning cage team in several years.

Besides an amiable and generous personality, Calihan possesses a more thorough knowledge of basketball than any previous Titan cage mentor. His court experiences began at St. George High School in Chicago where he garnered all-city honors in his last two years. The second year he was honored with a most valuable player award in the National Catholic High School Tournament held in Chicago. At the University he set all the school scoring records and was selected to the All-American teams for two consecutive years. After his graduation Calihan lead several Navy teams and played champion-like professional ball. He is surpassed in scoring only by the all-time high-scorer, George Mikan.

Detroit's entry into Missouri Valley competition next season will be the supreme test for Calihan. The Titans will have amongst their opponents some of the nation's best cage quintets. With six lettermen under Calihan's tutelage for the second year, the Titans might well employ this year's spirit and added experience in dealing with next year's Missouri Valley foes.

Baseball

College baseball, to player and spectator, is the only sport displaying such a balanced variety of skill, speed and campus spirit. A sharp line drive single, a slow rolling bunt, a double play or a pop-fly are all items of delight found only on the diamond.

Lloyd Brazil, Titan athletic director, needs no introduction on campus. He lead the Titan baseballers into their sixth straight campaign. As a coach his teams have run up a respectable .554 percentage of games won. His 1948 team enjoyed the finest season of any Titan ball club of the pre-Brazil or Brazil era. It won 12 games, one of which was a 14-2 rout of the Western Conference champions, Michigan, and lost only 8 games.

The outlook for the 1949 season was indeed bleak. Coach Brazil lost his number one and two batteries of last year, and two of the four regular infielders — the shortstop-second base combination, Bob Gorman and Bob Prendergast.

Lettermen looked for to lead the Titans against their usual stiff opposition were outfielders Bob Heym and Brakie Orr who batted .366 and .260 respectively in 1948. Captain Warren Hintz, who batted in one out of every six Titan runs last year, again held down first base. The lone battery of last year, Ed Zaligaris and catcher Leon Van Hevele did little in the way of consoling Brazil. Zaligaris was ruled ineligible for the season and Van Hevele broke his thumb early in the season and missed several games. However, John O'Connor was borrowed from the grid team in this crisis and proved a very able substitute for Van Hevele.

The book of Titan athletic history was re-edited in 1949 and the biggest chapter yet was added. Our entrance this season into Missouri Valley Conference competition stepped up the tempo of the sports program. In every Titan athlete's mind was, virtually, a victory or a record or a championship in conference play. The baseball team was no exception. They began their season impressively by winning five of eight starts. The fight for conference honors was not as victorious.

The conference is divided into two divisions, east and west. Detroit, Bradley, Drake and St. Louis compete in the eastern division to meet the western champ—either Oklahoma A & M, Wichita, or Tulsa. The winner of the east-west game is the conference champion. The Titans have lost three of four conference games and are eliminated from the conference championship race.

The Titans wasted little time in hitting their stride this season. The team of veterans and newcomers alike opened the season by pushing twenty-two runs past a comparatively weak Selfridge Field ball club while allowing none. The starting lineup for that game has played most of the University's baseball so far this season. Captain Hintz has defended the first base area for the eight games to date. At second base Fred Antczak has been the standby with Arnold Cascarano as an alternate. Herb Boldt at shortstop and Walt Maksimczyk at third base have teamed to defend the third baseline. Behind the plate Leon Van Hevele started the season but an injury forced him to the bench and John O'Connor replaced him and has been the work-horse at that position. Bob Heym and Brakie Orr have played left field and right field respectively, with Ed Jeakle covering the center field. At the plate the above mentioned have produced to maintain a .300-plus team batting average to date.

Top: Captain Warren Hintz is the third man in Titan history to captain two major-sport teams. He captained the cage quintet this year. Although he batted only .243 last season his fielding around first base was near perfect. He made only 4 errors in 215 chances.

Center: Herb Boldt, shortstop, won a starting position last year, his first year on the squad. In 1948 he was third in the number of hits with 21, and he batted .259. This year for eight games he was batting .320.

Bottom: Pete Viviano has three positions on the ball team. He is first a relief pitcher, secondly a first and third base coach, and finally he is a good part of the team's moral support. As pitcher, coach, and "holler guy," Pete is equally valuable.

Track

For variety of action, intensity of participation, and maximum of thrills and enjoyment, track events have no rivals. From the short sprints and the hurdle events, through the shot put, discus and javelin throw, high jump, pole vault and broad jumps, to the engrossing mile run, the outdoor events offer excellence in individual performance.

Grid stars Bill Haley and Jim Massey team up with last season's sprinter Bob Rook in a practice sprint session at the stadium. All three are out for the 100 yard and the 220 yard events.

Dr. Raymond Forsyth
Head Track Coach

The Missouri Valley Conference track and field championship at Stillwater, Oklahoma, May 13-14, features the University of Detroit's track schedule. This meet marks the Titan thinclads' debut in conference competition. Other highlights of the slate include the Michigan AAU meet at Ypsilanti, June 4, and the second annual Landuyt Pentathlon, an intersquad event on June 7.

The Titans have four dual meets and one triangular affair with the season opening on April 30 against Hillsdale at Detroit. The Triangular meet with Kalamazoo and John Carroll on May 7, and the dual meet with Loyola (Chicago), May 21, mark the first time Detroit has met any of these schools in track.

Captain Wally Gruber, holder of three sprint records, and one of the six best dash men in the nation last summer, heads a list of 13 returning lettermen. Jack O'Leary, who has shown the greatest improvement of the squad members during spring practice sessions, will team up with Gruber in the 220 and the 440 yard events.

Don Nufer, the outstanding javelin thrower in this section of the country, has returned to perform with the javelin and the shot put. Durable Frank Synk and Dick Trafney will perform at the longer distances. The Titans will be stronger this season in the one-half mile with the improvement of Jack Walker and Frank Bartos.

The Titans won three of five dual meets last year and broke even in two triangular meets.

Don Nufer, who figured prominently in the javelin event and the shot put last season, practices for his two specialties. In the center photo, Captain Wally Gruber is way ahead of the rest of the pack as usual, as he finishes the 440 relay race.

Titan Swimming

Three years ago Wallace W. Laury began building a swimming team with but a few eager freshmen, no personal competitive swimming experience, and several years of coaching experience. From apparently little, Laury has built something obviously great. The 1949 Titan tankers have besides floating by 4 of their 8 opponents and placing second in the Missouri Valley meet, broken 2 of the standing school records.

All this has flourished from the interest Laury took in competitive swimming as an instructor and physical education supervisor in the Detroit public schools. During the past ten years at Northwestern High School his teams have won six city championships. His record at the University is also impressive. Each team has performed with marked improvement in maintaining its .500 percentage against increasingly tougher foes.

Fencing Coach

Ed Mylis and John Stroth, specialists with the foil, practice for their big match with Notre Dame.

By winning four of seven matches during the 1949 season, the Titan fencers posted the best season record in recent years.

Led by player-coach Harry Jensen, the swordsmen compiled a record of three consecutive victories over Case Institute, Tri-State College, and the University of Toronto before bowing to Oberlin for the season's first loss. Two more defeats followed in encounters with Michigan State and Wayne University before the final victory of the season over Notre Dame University by the close score of 14-13.

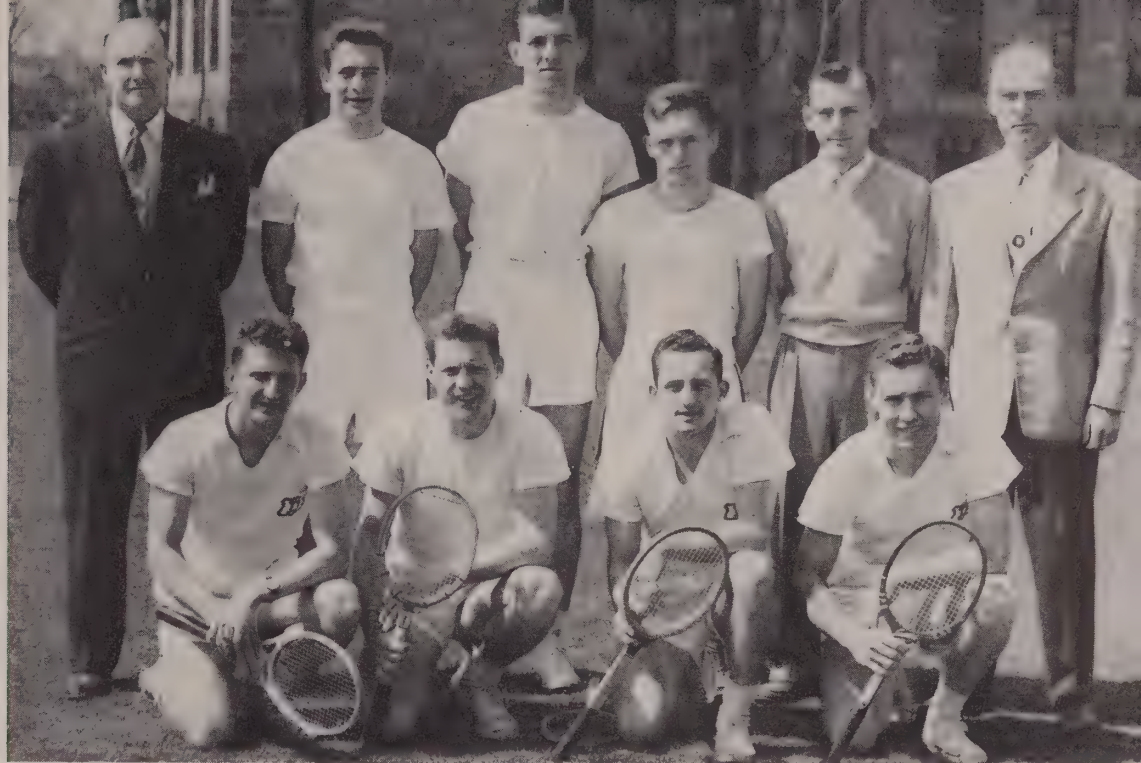

The victory over the Irish was made more impressive by the knowledge that the fencers from South Bend had not been defeated in seventeen previous tournaments.

The largest crowd of the season saw Art Bruce and Al Kunzmann pace the victors with three victories in the epee event and saber match respectively.

Art Bruce further distinguished himself by receiving a gold medal as winner of the epee finals in the Intra-State Tourney held at Ann Arbor, Michigan, in March.

Titan Tennis

Eleven dual meets, the Missouri Valley Championship at Stillwater, Oklahoma, May 13-14, and the Central Collegiate Conference Championship, June 2-4, will offer the University of Detroit netters plenty of work this spring.

The lengthy slate opens against Bowling Green and includes matches with Kalamazoo, Notre Dame, Wayne, Central Michigan, Toledo, and Alma.

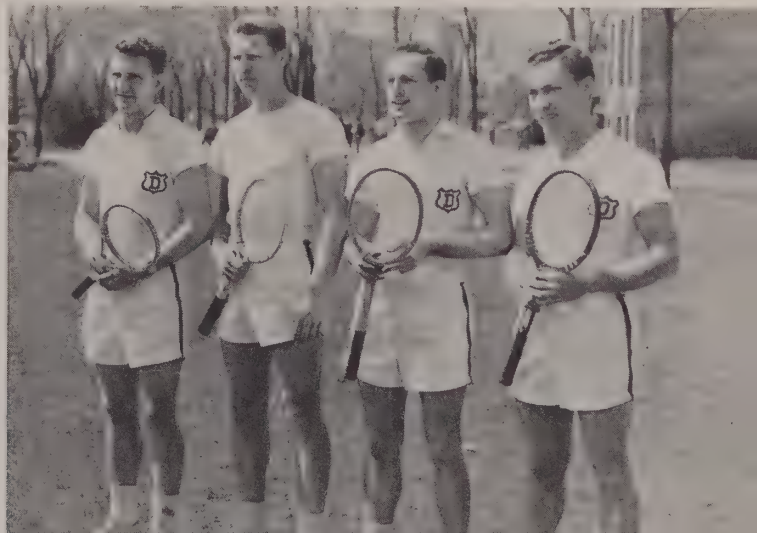

Boasting plenty of experience and a wealth of material, the Titan tennis squad has been built around five returning lettermen who had finished a highly successful 1948 season with nine victories against two defeats.

With the addition of four newcomers, coach Walter Cavanaugh, a Titan star in the middle 1930's, has on hand a well balanced squad on a par with last season's successful netters.

Returning lettermen who form the nucleus of this season's squad are: Bob Kleinsmith, Larry Kane, Captain John Walton, and Al Renuart.

Freshman Football

The freshman football team under the capable hands of Bill Hintz, head coach, and line coach Dr. John Rynearson, completed its 1948 season with victories in all three encounters. Since Ed Barbour took over the frosh teams in 1934, they have maintained a record of football supremacy that stretches over 14 years without a defeat.

The short schedule was inaugurated at Port Huron on October 2, when the Titan Freshmen steam-rolled to a 44-6 victory over the Port Huron J. C. Ulysses Rogers and Jack McKay led the one-sided assault with two touchdowns each, while Mike Goggins, Hayes Dabney, and Chuck Robinson added one each.

After being held to a lone touchdown scored by Ed Sawicki in the first half, the Titan Frosh exploded for 20 points in the last half to whip the frosh from Wayne University by the score of 26 to 6 in Titan stadium on October 27. Jack McKay, Bill Adams, and Harold Lau scored for the Titans while the line was holding Wayne to five first downs.

The final victory over the Western Michigan J.V. by a score of 25 to 6 in the stadium on October 5, earned the Titan yearlings a rating with the greatest Frosh teams that have played for the Red and White. Ulysses Rogers started the ball rolling early in the first quarter when, after a sustained drive, he crashed over from the six yard line. Subsequent scores by Mike Goggins, Rogers, and Leo Gage completed the scoring for the season.

Fears by the University of Detroit cage followers that the Titans might finish weakly in their initial venture in the Missouri Valley Conference next winter, were swept away by the strength shown by the 1948-49 freshman basketball team.

The Titan Frosh romped through their 12 game schedule without a defeat and exhibited top prospects for the following season's varsity team. Leading performer for the frosh was Norman Swanson, a six foot, five inch center from Chicago, who scored 129 points in eleven games while pacing the Titan Frosh to an undefeated season. On a par with him was John Murphy, closely followed by Bob Gleason and Robert Lindstrom.

The success of the team was due in large measure to the efforts of the new coach, John Biringer, who has coached a few independent teams before assuming his post as coach of the Titan Freshmen.

Titan Golf

William Kelly Joyce, veteran professor of the School of Law, guided the Titan linksmen for the fourteenth consecutive year. Of the 139 matches in which his teams have participated, they have won 47, tied 2, and lost 90. The record, seemingly unimpressive, is not so when one considers the opposition. The Titans have played, largely, the cream of college golfers for their schedules include many Western Conference teams.

The 1949 crop of Titan golfers was said to have been one of the best balanced since the days of the great Babbish. Of the 1948 team which won 2 out of 16 matches, three lettermen and three squadmen are returning. The 1948 letter winners are John Povlitz, Dick Buechler and Roy Iceberg. The three are consistent, seasoned match players who average between 75 and 79. Other squadmen returning are Don Visscher, Dave Turner and Don Crait. This trio was expected to win many points for the Titans this year. However, the real scoring punch was sought from two newcomers. Jack Brennan, a 1947 letterman, back on the links this season, and Sam Koscis, one of the six famous Koscis golfers, are expected to help the Titans to a winning season.

In the season openers played at Bloomington, Indiana, against Purdue and Indiana, the Titans dropped both close matches. Had two putts fallen at the right time, Detroit would have tied Indiana and lost by only three points to Purdue. As it was Purdue took Detroit 7-2 and Indiana defeated the Titans 6½-2½.

What the Intramural Sports lack in peak performance, they make up with spirit and effort. Well balanced competition and mass participation by members of the student body produce closely fought encounters on a par with the intensity of Varsity performances.

In an effort to increase interest and intensify competition among students Bob Ivory, new director of Intramural athletics, has gone all out on a new sports program. For the fraternity or club which is outstanding in intramural sports over a school year and accumulates the most points, a trophy will be presented for proficiency in intramural activities. At left Bob Ivory and his intramural sports assistant Jack Cvetich checks the bulletin board to see how the handball tournament is proceeding.

Beaten out in the finals in 1947, Len Rittorf and Bill Leoni came back in 1948 to win the handball crown. Taking on all comers this season they proceeded to repeat their championship performance by winning again. An intramural handball record was established when they conquered their first-round opponents by the scores of 21 to 2 and 21 to 1. At left the handball finalists shake hands after the match. From left to right: Len Rittorf, Ray Grubba, Pete Viviano and Bill Leoni.

The Varsity Club, undefeated champs of the Red League, defeated the Bears, the unbeaten champs of the White League, to win the Intramural football championship by a score of 13 to 7. Dick Buechler's passing and running in the play-off game between the league victors paced the six man Varsity Club squad to victory. In the front row, left to right, are: John Walton, Captain Ed Zaliagiris, James Kirscke and Dick Beuchler. Second row: Bill Leoni, Leo Van Hevele, Remo Vielmo, Dave Fitzpatrick and Bob Heym.

A thorough intramural program should provide activities that appeal to as many varied tastes as possible. The school bowling leagues, uptown and downtown campuses, give many students the opportunity to enjoy both healthful exercise and competitive sport.

Pictured are two Titan keglers of the uptown league. At the left is Dave Turner, the secretary and one of the league high bowlers. At the right is Jack Dowell who holds the high three-game total with 706 and high single-game with 268.

One event many golf enthusiasts look forward to is the annual Fisher Trophy Tournament. Open to all male students, the tournament runs for two days and the trophy is awarded to the medalist for thirty-six holes in that time.

Pictured is Don Nelson, winner of the 1949 tournament with a 75-75-150 for the rounds. Don proved himself quite versatile, for he clinched the tournament after a morning workout with the Titan grid squad.

Baseball, the national pastime, has found its way into the University's intramural program. Bob Ivory, intramural sports director, has two active leagues on campus. One is composed of Holden Hall residents, the second is open to all University students.

BUSIER and BUSIER...

Industry is busier than ever before, and so are we at Detroit Edison. Each week more homes and shops are going up . . . farms are modernizing. All are using more and more electricity. This growing business and industrial activity means greater opportunities for trained people.

We congratulate the class of '49 and look to you, the graduate today, for leadership tomorrow.

They reflect the progress of modern dentistry

Bear in mind, that almost all patients who will come to you have been the patients of other dentists. When these patients enter your office they will consciously or subconsciously make comparisons. Naturally you want these comparisons to favor you. You can mold them to do just this. How?

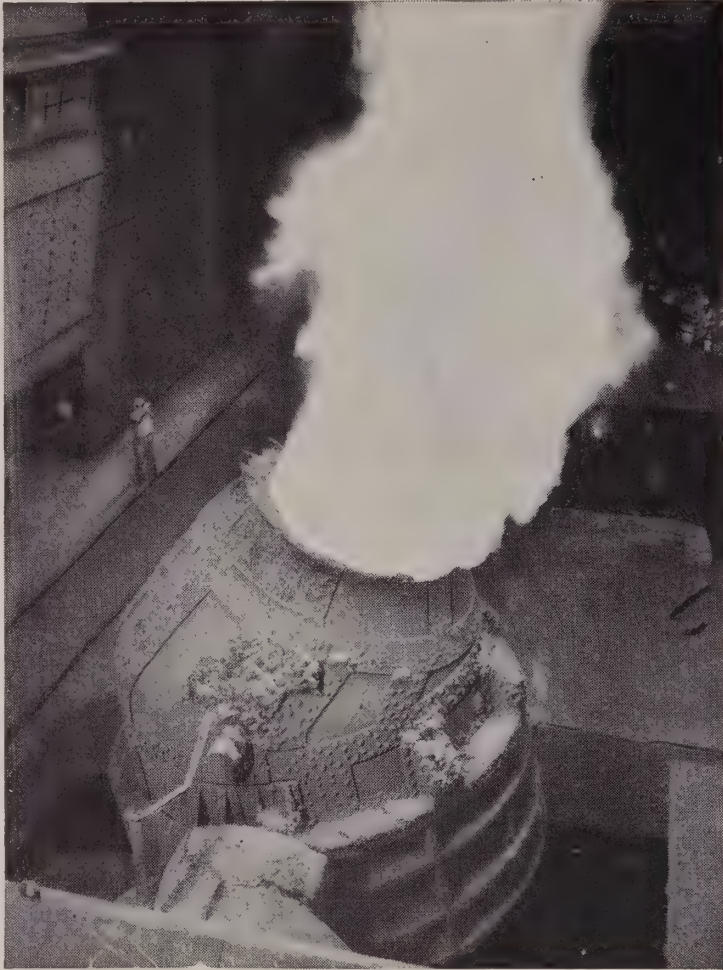

1. Correct personal appearance—an all white uniform.
2. A tastefully furnished and an efficiently arranged office.
3. Operating equipment so modern it speaks for itself and commands attention and respect.

We, and every distributor of S. S. White Equipment are eager and ready to help you design and equip a modern dental suite that will inspire and aid you, beyond the power of words to express, to practise in your highest plane of endeavor—an office that will be in tune with modern dentistry today and tomorrow. Visit any distributor of S. S. White Equipment; learn about our free office planning service and easy payment terms, or write direct.

STEEL...

CONTRIBUTES TO A BETTER WAY OF LIFE

The industries that make America great are built on a foundation and a framework of steel. Railroads, shipping, communications, manufacturing . . . all depend on steel to keep materials, information and finished products flowing.

Great Lakes Steel Corporation is proud to have a part in the growth of America. It is proud to contribute N-A-X HIGH-TENSILE, N-A-X 9100 Series alloy steels and carbon steels that give added strength to so many basic industries. Great Lakes Steel Corporation makes hot and cold rolled sheets, strips, bars and bar sections . . . makes Stran-Steel framing for commercial and light industrial buildings, for Quonset buildings and for homes. Yes, Great Lakes Steel Corporation is proud of its steel . . . the magic metal that means progress . . . means a better way of life for all America.
